HITLER BOASTS OF WHOLE NATION'S SUPPORT

Out Of The Gloaming.

Sjt. Tairsee is waging a war for the division of profit and pathetically asks how it is to be divided. He is too old a hand in such matters, and our advice won't be accepted

We, however, congratulate him on securing front page publicity in newspapers, for ill-luck was dogging his footsteps all these weary-months and no opportunity was afforded him to come into the limelight. But the days of depression are over, and he is heard again in the land.

* * * *

L.R.T. says that the Cricket Control Board was formed over the head of Bombay. A very tall body it must be to do it over the Hindu Gymkhana President's head, but everything must be made possible when India's cricket stature has to be raised.

* * * *

L.R.T. says the Control Board wants to secure its financial future, by bringing the M.C.C. team and making it play with Indians at the latter's cost,—in the same way as they have brought the W.P. to secure Britain's financial future. Great minds again thinking alike!

* * * *

If Indians withdraw their guarantee, everything may turn into a fiasco, fears a London paper. Such a disaster must be averted, where India's cricket future is concerned. The very reason they are asking India to make every financial concession to Britain to assure W.P.'s future.

* * * *

You can't deny the alertness of the A. P. particularly their Bombay staff's anxiety to read the "Hindu" and turn everything into interesting news paragraphs. As soon as that paper was received, they at once converted a leaderette into a fresh newsy para from Bangalore and posted it to us!

* * * *

That shows how everything comes to him who waits. One Mr. K. Subbarao died on the 27th, the "Hindu" wrote on the 31st, and the A. P. at once gave the benefit of it to Bombay on the 1st. And we might have actually missed it! Nobody can beat the A. P. tradition.

* * * *

Simla can't afford to lose its prestige, and it is firmly established now that Gandhiji was released with the previous permission of the humane Home Member! He wanted the credit to himself of handing over Gandhiji to his relations before anything very "serious" happened to him.

* * * *

And yet foolish Bombay people rendered unto the Bombay Governor what was his. Simla can't afford to have on its hands Gandhiji "approaching the danger zone."

* * * *

The Bajauris must be the toughest people on earth, and also the costliest people, according to the Commander-in-Chief. It actually cost the Government Rs. 15,000 to injure a single Bajauri!

* * * *

In all 90 bombs weighing 10,788 lbs. were dropped on the Bajauris to wound a single man. We don't know whether seriously, or whether the poor fool received a mere scratch. At this rate it would have cost several crores to kill one Bajauri!

* * * *

Now we understand why a government bent on economy at once deprecated such economy in human lives. Enormous amounts have been invested in army planes, as an economy measure, and now the Bajauris refuse to co-operate with the Army in its economy campaign. What cussedness!

* * * *

While one Chetty is safe in his seat in the Assembly, others are being sent out of Indo-China. That's because they don't follow the Ottawa Knight's lead of co-operation. They ought to co-operate with their debtors and also with lower rates of intercst.

* * * *

"My boy," said a married Bishop to a youngster employed as bootboy at the episcopal palace, and who had been found out in some fault, "I want you to remember not only that you grieve me by your conduct, but that there is One far greater than either of us who takes notice of everything we do, and will hold us responsible for our actions."

"Yes, my lord," replied the boy, "She's already spoken to me about it."

OPENING SPEECH AT NAZI CONGRESS

Fight Against "Poisoners of People" To Be Continued

NO REFERENCE TO FUTURE PLANS AND FOREIGN AFFAIRS

NUREMBERG, Sept. 1.

A claim that the whole Nation supported the Nazi Movement which had now become the German Reich, was made in a long proclamation read on behalf of Chancellor Hitler at the opening of the Nazi Congress in the beflagged hall in the presence of a huge audience which received Herr Hitler and other leaders with tremendous enthusiasm.

NO PEEP INTO FUTURE PLAN

The proclamation gave little enlightenment on the future plans, and did not refer to foreign affairs, but recapitulated its evils of Marxism, and declared that Germany at the beginning of the year escaped the Bolshevist terror by a hair's breadth. It foreshadowed continuance of the fight until the "poisoners of the German people" had been wiped out.

TACKLING UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM.

Tremendous efforts were demanded to combat the most important problem of unemployment, and the Parliamentary democratic principle was definitely repudiated, the proclamation declaring that the Nation's will would best be declared through its best brains.

Finally it hinted at the reduction of the number of Federal States, declaring that the German people and Naziism and not States, constituted the sole support of the Reich.—Reuter.

GREATER VICTORY IN FUTURE

Hitler Is Guarantor, Says Nazi Deputy Chief

NUREMBERG, Sept. 1.

Fifteen-thousand people were present at the festival hall of the first Nazi Congress under the new regime, opened by Herr Rudolf Hess, Deputy Chief of the Part

A dramatic scene was witnessed when Herr Roehm, Chief of Staff, read the names of the hundreds of Nazis who had fallen for the movement to the accompaniment of rolling drums, while the audience stood in silence.

Behind Herr Roehm stood the Storm Troopers holding the blood-stained flag of the Hitler-Ludendorf revolt in 1923.

FRIENDLY RELATIONS.

Herr Hess welcomed the guests, especially the representatives of Signor Mussolini's Fascist Party, whose presence, he said, was a proof of friendly Italo-German relations.

Herr Hess predicted that the future would bring a more overwhelming Nazi victory, and added a panegyric to Herr Hitler who he said, was the guarantor of the final victory of the future of Germany.—Reuter.

SPREADING DISEASE AMONG NAZIS?

Discovery Of Germs In Communist Houses

NUREMBERG, September 1.

The authorities claim the discovery in a recent raid on Communist houses of enough typhus bacilli to cause terrible havoc amongst the populace during the Nazi Congress.—Reuter.

GERMAN JEWS FOR PALESTINE

Emigration To Be Furthered By Decree

BERLIN, Sept. 1.

Emigration of Jews to Palestine is to be furthered by Decree which is published in the "Borsen Courier".

The publication is officially described as premature. Emigrants according to the Decree will place amounts (? not) exceeding thousand Palestine pounds—sum now allowed to be exported by emigrants—to the credit of Trustee Society to be formed in Palestine These amounts will be used in paying for German goods delivered in Palestine. Jews not emigrating at present but building homes in Palestine will also do likewise.

The total credit should not exceed three million marks at present to avoid unduly straining reserves of Reichsbank.—Reuter's Special.

MAHATMA MUST RESPOND

His Release Is Gesture Of Conciliation Says "News-letter"

LET HIM RECIPROCATE

If He Fails, Responsibility for Consequences Will Be His, Warns N. Labour Organ.

(SPECIAL CABLE).

LONDON, Septr. 1.

The hope that Mahatma Gandhi would respond to the Government of India's conciliatory action by repairing his previous error of inducing the Congress to continue Civil Disobedience, is expressed in the National Labour Party's fortnightly organ, "News-Letter," commenting on the Government of India's "great concession" in releasing Gandhiji unconditionally.

The paper says that their action gives him a chance to make a gesture which would be in the interest of his Untouchables' campaign no less than for the political peace of India.

The journal adds that if he fails to respond, responsibility for the consequences will be his.

Meanwhile, the Viceroy has done well to reaffirm Dominion Status as the ultimate aim.

POLICE OPEN FIRE ON VILLAGERS

Sequel To Clash Between Adi-Dravidas And Muslims At Ambur

(From Our Correspondent.)

MADRAS, Sept. 1.

Information received at the Police Headquarters show that the annual Gangal Amman Festival celebrated by Adidravidas at Ambur, North Arcot District came off on the 30th. Though there were strained feelings between Adidravidas and Mahomedans of the locality, leaders of both parties agreed to celebrate the festival without any clash.

The Sub-magistrate and a small police party were in attendance. Suddenly when the procession had marched a little distance a number of Mahomedans armed with sticks and knives are alleged to have thrown stones at Adidravidas who retaliated.

Meanwhile, caste Hindus arriving from the neighbouring street also joined the fight.

POLICE HIT BY STONES.

Small police party were caught between the opposing parties and were hit by stones. Despite warning by the Magistrate that the police would open fire, the mob continued to throw stones.

Under the Sub-magistrate's orders the police finally fired four shots one by one resulting in the dispersal of Hindus and Adidravidas Mahomedans however shouted defiance at police who held their position against them until the arrival of reinforcements when the situation was brought under complete control.

ONE KILLED AND TWO INJURED

MADRAS, Aug. 31.

Information has been received here that police opened fire at Ambur (North Arcot) on a disorderly mob resulting in the death of one man and injuries to two others. The communal tension between Adi Dravidas and Muslims resulted in a clash last evening. Finding the situation uncontrollable the police open fire. —A. P.

AHATMA MAKES SLOW PROGRESS

Advised To Refrain From Undue Strain

STILL ON SAME DIET, AND GIVEN MASSAGE IN EVENINGS

POONA, Sept. 1.

In view of his present slow progress towards recovery Gandhiji has been advised by Dr. Gilder to refrain from undue strain for some time to come. Dr. Gilder examined him to-day.

Gandhiji is still on the same diet, namely, vegetable soup, fruits and fruit juice, and goat's milk, and this is increased according to his power of assimilation.

He attends to important correspondence; otherwise he avoids all kinds of strain. He takes short strolls in the morning and evening, in the Parnakuti garden, and is given massage in the evening.

Rev. Andrews is seeing him daily.

VISIT TO ORISSA URGED.

Gandhiji is receiving many telegrams and letters from Orissa, regarding the great distress caused there by floods. The Secretary of the Flood Relief Committee writes to him that about 60,000 houses are destroyed and 1,200 sq. miles of the country devastated. He appeals to Gandhiji to proceed to Orissa as early as possible.

Rev. Andrews will decide the question of his leaving Poona after consultation with Gandhiji.

Mrs. Naidu, though in bad health, continues to stay here.

R. B. KALE AT PARNAKUTI.

Rao Bahadur Kale, the leader of the Opposition in the Bombay Council visited Parnakuti, this afternoon, and had a short talk with Gandhiji.—A. P.

A polite refusal is being sent to the formal request now received from the Austrian Government for the arrest of Herr Hofer (who escaped from Innsbruck prison) and his companions.

WORLD TRAGEDIES.

PARIS, Sept. 1.

The cyclone Caribbean comes to a climax with a number of tragedies in various parts of the world.

Five members including the Chief Officer and the chief engineer were killed in a explosion aboard the British tanker "Athol Queen," while on a voyage from Yokohama to Manilla.

In Mexico where unprecedented rains were the cause of extensive damage 15 women and children were drowned. The women were washing clothes on the banks of a river in the State of Santa Cruz and the whole party was overwhelmed by a sudden torrent.

Two further deaths among tourists are reported from the Swiss Alps which have experienced one of the most dangerous mountaineering seasons in the recent years. —Reuter.

INDO-JAP FRIENDSHIP

Interdependence Of Trade Makes It Essential, Says Jap Leader

SAWADA INTERVIEWED

Says, Japan is Approaching Conference with Open Mind.

HONGKONG, Sept. 1.

Mr. Sawada, leader of Government group of the Japanese Cotton Delegation who is sailing aboard the "Hakusanmaru" for Simla, interviewed by Reuter expressed confidence that their objects could be achieved and trade relatons put on a better foundation.

Japanese were imbued with the determination to secure goodwill and were approaching the conference with an open mind. They realised that it was necessary for peace of the world that Britain and Japan must resume their traditional friendship, while Indo-Japanese good relations were essential owing to the interdependence of trade matters. He was carrying instructions from Tokio which encouraged confidence that results would reflect better appreciation of world-wide trade problems and better political understanding between Japan and British Empire.—Reuter.

INTRIGUES OVER LABOUR LEADERSHIP

LONDON, Sept 1

Political stir in which Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Mr. MacDonald, and Mr. Henderson are central figures has been caused by Commander Kenworthy's allegations of intrigues over leadership of the Labour Party in 1931, which story Mr. Snowden to-day hotly declares to be an "unmitigated lie".

According to Commander Kenworthy, who is telling the story in his forthcoming autobiography, following the idea of Mr. MacDonald to go to India as Viceroy, the party approached Mr. Henderson, who was willing to be nominated to the leadership if Mr. Snowden was prepared to support him.

Commander Kenworthy and others approached Mr. Snowden who, at first was charming, believing that the invitation was to himself. Thereafter, Commander Kenworthy believed when the truth was out that Mr. Snowden began to hate the Party, with which he had spent many years Mr. Snowden's denial further accuses, of Commander Kenworthy of asking him to intrigue against Mr. MacDonald which he flatly refused to do.

A NEW MEDICAL IMPROVEMENT

PROLONGATION OF HEALTHY AND ACTIVE LIFE TREATMENT OF ALL AILMENTS

Men of science whose names are world renowned, have proved beyond doubt that the weakening of the human organism, uric acid poisoning innumerable ailments, precocious senile decay and death itself are caused by feeble vital glands unable to carry out their essential functions properly. They no longer supply the constitution with the necessary active life-giving ferments. These savants have shown that lost physical health and virility can be rendered to impoverished organisms by means of the introductions into the body of extracts of vital glands such as KALEFLUID.

KALEFLUID rejuvenates and strengthens every element of the human body; it replaces lost vigour and brings back health, speeds up the nutritive forces, dissolves and eliminates uric acid and its salts and poisons. After a course of the KALEFLUID treatment you will find pains and maladies disappearing as well as your nervous depression. You will become cheerful and alert and you will enjoy a healthy life full of youth.

KALEFLUID has earned five Grands Prix and five Grandes Medailles d'Or in Paris, London, Brussels, Rome and Florence.

KALEFLUID is on sale in Paris at the LABORATOIRE DU KALEFLUID 49, Rue Balagny, PARIS and in BOMBAY from KEMP and Co. Ltd., Charni Road, Queen's Street.

Merchants Chamber's Move For Peace

Deputation To Wait On Gandhiji And Viceroy To Bring About Amicable Understanding?

An Interesting story of the latest attempt in the nature of a peace move to end the war between the Government and the Congress emanates from Bombay Commercial circles.

It appears that at one of the recent meetings of the Committee of the Indian Merchants Chamber, a letter written by Mr. Vithaldas Damodar Govindji, urging on the Committee to send a Deputation to Gandhiji on behalf of the Chamber request him to withdraw the Civil Disobedience Movement in the interesting of Trade and Commerce was exhaustively discussed for over two hours.

PERSONNEL?

It appears the letter suggested that the Deputation should consist of the following:—

Sir Manmohandas Ramji,
Sir Chunilal Mehta,
Sir Suleman Cassam Mitha,
Mr. A. D. Shroff,
Mr. Mathradas Vissanji,
Mr. H. P. Mody and
Mr. Manu Subedar.

TRADE HIT BY C. D.?

According to the author of the letter, the Deputation was to meet Gandhiji as early as possible at Poona and lay before him the facts about the havoc the Civil Disobedience Movement was playing as regards Commerce and Trade.

He wanted the Deputation to tell Gandhiji that due to the movement the country had suffered very much without any benefit to anybody; and that if the movement were not withdrawn at the earliest moment, possible, it would be impossible to revive Trade which was at its lowest ebb at the moment. The writer wanted the Deputation to meet the Viceroy also, and bring about an amicable understanding between the Congress and the Government.

WHO WILL LEAD?

It is stated, that Sir Manmohandas Ramji, the Chairman of the Chamber regretted his inability to lead a deputation at the present moment due to his ill-health, although he was in favour of the proposal put forth by Mr. Vithaldas.

Mr. H. P. Mody is reported to have stated that as he would be too busy with the textile discussions, it would not be possible for him to join the Deputation.

Sir Chunilal Mehta, an Ex-President of the Chamber, and Mr. Walchand Hirachand, are reported to have strongly supported the move of Mr. Vithaldas. Both of them agreed that if the Trade should be revived, the war between the Government and the Congress should stop. They opined that the prolongation of the movement, which had failed, would mean misery all round. The country could not gain anything by continuing the movement any longer.

NATIONALISTS OPPOSE

The Nationalist members, who opposed the move, it appears stated that to advise Gandhiji about the Civil Disobedience Movement was not the duty of the Indian Merchants Chamber. It was for the political colleagues of Gandhiji who were directly concerned in the movement to make any sort of suggestion to him. The Chamber did not advise Gandhiji to start the Civil Disobedience Movement and it was not their function to ask him to withdraw it. The move would be taken as an attempt to discredit Gandhiji and would be indirectly playing into the hands of the Government.

LETTER RECORDED

They suggested that the letter should recorded.

Notwithstanding the support of Sir Chunilal Mehta and others in favour of the move, it seems that the nationalist view prevailed and the letter was recorded, as at present the position of both Gandhiji and the Government was not known to the Chamber.

The Committee agreed to wait for a better and more favourable atmosphere when the question could be taken up again for discussion.

AMAZING SWINDLE IN SHARES

Muslim Youth Alleged To Have Obtained Money From Anglo-Indian By False Pretex

BOMBAY, Friday.

In these days of trade depression, there would be a rush in the Share Bazar if people know that there was an opportunity of getting Rs. 4 a day, if Rs. 1,000 were invested in shares. Even at the outset, this looks ridiculous.

But this is alleged to be the offer made by one Adam Haji Ismail, a Muslim youth, to an Anglo-Indian named Horace Fanaken, who was easily lured by this get-rich-quick offer and bought Rs. 1,000 worth of shares.

After a few days, he found that it was a hoax played on him, and hence, lodged a complaint of cheating with the Pydhownie Police. Sergeant Twiss arrested Adam Haji Ismail and Ismail Mahomed Jacob on Wednesday.

Both the accused persons were produced before Mr. G R Khairaz, Presidency Magisterate, Mazgaon, and the police applied for remand of the accused to carry on further investigations.

In the remand application, it was showed that a few days ago, the first accused approached the complainant and told him that, if he invested Rs 500 in shares in a scheme, he would get Rs. 4 a day. Later the amount was raised to Rs. 1,000. The complainant agreed to buy a share certificate, purporting to have been signed by three different persons, but it was actually signed by the first accused, three times, and was given to the complainant.

On February 17, the accused and two others took the complainant to Room No. 42, Saerang Street, where they discovered that there were 201 shares, instead of 200.

In consequence of that, the complainant agreed to sell his share and gave his share certificate to the second accused, who was present in the room, to sell it for him.

After a few days, the complainant found that the second accused had, not only not sold the share certificate, but he was shocked to learn that the accused (second) denied having received it at all. A complaint in this connection, was, therefore, lodged and the case was compounded in the sixth court.

The Police, in their enquiries, found that the first accused was a minor during the time of the above transaction, and that the Accountant-General held Rs. 32,900/ in draft for his. It was also found that the first accused with the second, went to a village called Ramavav in Porbunder State, and induced the Patel to issue a false certificate by changing the birthdate of the first accused of 1915 to 1912, which showed that he was now 21 instead of 18.

Armed with this false certificate, it is alleged that the first accused obtained from the Accountant-General Rs. 32,900 only two months ago.

Enquiries showed that the accused had squandered the whole amount under suspicious circumstances. Further enquiries in this connection are being made by the Police.

The Magistrate ordered both of the accused to be released on a bail of Rs. 500 with one surety each till September 13.

BIG MUSICAL COMEDY AT PATHE CINEMA

Maurice Chevalier In "Smiling Lieutenant"

Maurice Chevalier's big production, "Smiling Lieutenant," is being played at Pathe Cinema this week-end. In addition to this great entertainer, we have two very popular stars, Miriam Hopkins and Claudette Colbert. Charlie Ruggles also takes part in the picture. The music and singing throughout the show are superb. Maurice Chevalier's songs are always popular, but it can be safely said that "Smiling Lieutenant" definitely stands out as one of his biggest shows.

The part that Chevalier plays suits him to perfection as he has every opportunity of displaying his ability to make the ladies fall in love with him.

Set in Old Vienna, this musical effort, the directorial work of Ernest Lubitsch, revolves around the romantic adventure of Chevalier, who, as a happy-go-lucky officer of the royal guard, meets his fate in a beer garden, then is overtaken by another fate because he couldn't restrain his mischievous eyes.

Charles Ruggles tells Chevalier of a girl he had seen in a beer garden, playing a violin and leading an orchestra of girls. He long distance, and needed Chevalier to help him in meeting her. Chevalier agrees, sees the girl, falls in love with her and their romance begins, to the exclusion of Ruggles.

The King of the neighbouring country of Flausenthurm visits the Emperor with his shy, quiet daughter, played by Miriam Hopkins. Chevalier, officer of the guard, sees his sweetheart across the street and smiles at her, but the smile is caught by the princess instead, and she is insulted. To appease the anger of the king and the insult to the princess, who has by this time achieved a decided attraction for Chevalier, he is ordered to marry the princess.

Despondent, he goes to Flausenthurm, and there one night finds his first love. The romance starts anew, until the unhappy princess discovers where her husband has been spending most of his time. On a pretext, she brings Miss Colbert to the palace where they first slap each other's faces, then become fast friends. The violinist realizes she must lose Chevalier, so she undertakes to teach the mouse-like princess how to attract her husband. The transformation is complete and sudden, and Chevalier, returning to the palace, comes upon a new sort of princess wife, the kind he had always wanted.

"IT'S A KING" AT ROXY

Among the film-comedians, none has enjoyed such a large measure of discriminating appreciation as Sydney Howard. His latest picture "It's a King" will be on view this week at the Roxy Cinema, New Queen's Road.

It is a farcical comedy packed with hilarious situations, from start to finish, and offers genuine entertainment. In the role of Albert, Howard gives a powerful characterisation that shows his natural gift of comedy—a man who is comic, not through circumstances which surrounded him, but by his very nature.

"A NIGHT IN CAIRO" AT CAPITOL

Portrayal of oriental roles seems to have become a habit with Ramon Novarro. First came "The Son of India," then "The Son-Daughter" and now "A Night In Cairo" which opens to-day at Capitol. His role, however, of the son of an Egyptian Chieftain, in his latest picture, is more convincing than the previous two, though the story is not. Novarro gives a fine performance as an oriental Don Juan, making love to every alternate European girl that visits Cairo and in the end robbing her of some of her valuables.

In these scenes he is his usual self, dashing, gay and romantic, until he really falls in love with a Western girl, about to marry an officer stationed in Egypt. The young Egyptian offers himself as her servant, but is dismissed when he becomes daring enough to kiss her. Then we see Novarro trying to win her love only to succeed in making her hate him more and more until, in the end, her hatred suddenly turns into love and she elopes with him only five minutes before her wedding! This is something that leaves us unconvinced and I am sure the picture would have been infinitely better with a tragic end.

The City of Cairo as well as some desert scenes have been represented with remarkable accuracy and the music, including a couple of songs which Novarro sings, add to the beauty of the picture and lend the colourful atmosphere so essential in such films. The cast includes Myrna Loy, C. Aubery Smith, Reginald Denny and the late Louise Crosser Hale who provides refreshing comic touches and greatly relieves some dull moments of the picture.

"KURUKSHETRA" AT MAJESTIC

Kurukshetra, a spectacular talkie picture produced by the Chhatrapati Cinetone of Kolhapur and released at the Majestic Cinema on last Saturday, is drawing crowded audiences and is now entering its second week. The picture depicts the great war story of the "Mahabharat" which has been pronounced to be the greatest epic of the world. The producers of the picture have spared no pains in making it a gorgeous one.

Sardar Balasaheb Yadao, who has directed this picture, plays the part of Bheem. He is supported by a big cast of actors and actresses including Madhavrao Joshi and Dattopant Bhonsale, the popular actors of the Marathi Stage who are at their best in their parts of Krishna and Suyodhana. The picture is on the whole entertaining.

"WHOOPEE" AT WELLINGTON

As a special Pateti attraction, the Wellington Cinema at Dhobi Talao will show the popular comedy "Whoopee," which has drawn crowded houses in Bombay on previous occasions. It is a brand new copy with technicolour sequences.

Eddie Cantor's inimitable antics and singing are the principal attraction of the film while there are a great many other features which lift the picture to the level of a first-class musical comedy. There are also novel types of beautiful dances.

"CAVALCADE" AT CARLTON

"Cavalcade," the magnificent film of Noel Coward's English play, which is to open at the Carlton Theatre to-day, is one of those rare motion pictures which draw to the cinema people not in the habit of patronising places of amusement.

In the American and Canadian cities and in London, where the film was first shown to English audiences, large numbers of people booking seats in advance, have acknowledged that in the usual way they have little or no interest in films. Such is the power of "Cavalcade."

It is not difficult, however, to appreciate why a film, dealing as does this one, with the lives of a typical English family and the struggles and triumphs through which they passed as a part of a great nation, from the year 1900 up to the present time, should grip the imagination of the varying sections of the human family.

There is entertainment in every foot for those wishing to be entertained; there is thought provoking material for those preferring intellectual satisfaction; there is something to make a patriot proud; something to feed the pacifists' zeal for international peace; there are lilting old songs and the ballads of the bygone days, and tunes which tickle the ears of the modern crowd. Above all, there is such sweet sorrow.

The acting of all leading artists is undoubtedly superb, Diana Wynyard, Clive Brook, Herbert Mundin, Una O'Connro, Ursula Jeans, Irene Browne, Merle Tottenham, Tempe Pigett and the children in the film all play their parts exceedingly well.

A LEGION OF FALLEN STARS

Famous players of the past are to be helped to find work by the compilation of a "preferred list" from which Hollywood directors will endeavour to fill smaller parts in casting their future pictures.

This legion of fallen stars already contains the names of 225 old-timers who were once powerful box-office attractions, but are now, in many instances, in difficult circumstances. To save them the humiliation of applying for works as extras, efforts will be made to find them minor parts at salaries of £3 or £4 a day.

Among the players included in the "preferred list" are Betty Blythe, Gladys Hulette, Florence Turner, Jean Acker Valentino, Doris May, Clara Kimball Young, Wallace MacDonald, Kit Guard, Alice Lake, Myrtle Steadman, Flora Finch, "Baby" Peggy, Mary Carr, Snub Pollard and Helen Chadwick.

Fox are to produce a marionette picture, with Lilian Harvey and possibly Gene Raymond in the leads.

Leila Hyams has been signed to a seven-years' contract by Universal, her first picture to be "Saturday's Millions."

Indian Films: What They Lack

Badly Written Stories, Too Much Singing And Defective Acting Detract From Merits Of Most Indian Productions

(By NARAIN SINGH, Dar-es-Salaam.)

As a film-goer of some ten years' standing, and one who has been very keenly interested in the development and evolution of the Indian film industry, I can say without hesitation that, although the Indian "silents" never passed out of the infancy stage, and the number of good silents can be counted on one's fingers, the Indian "talkies" have made really swift progress, and if the present speed is maintained, it is not necessary to be over-optimistic to be able to say that it will not be very long before they will be able to hold their own against foreign productions.

I have read in the "Chronicle" and other papers very well written articles full of helpful, constructive criticism. These are a credit to the writers, and must have been very useful to the Indian producers. But so far no Indian from Overseas appears to have promulgated his views through the medium of the Press, and that is why I have taken up my pen with great diffidence, being keenly aware of my numerous shortcomings, to set forth a few suggestions, which I hope will catch the attention of at least some of our directors and artistes.

HISTRIONIC DEFECTS.

It is idle to gainsay that Indians have not reached anywhere near perfection in acting. To realise the distance which we have to make up, it is only necessary to see a Western film one day, and an Indian the next. In the former, whatever the story or plot may be, you will find every actor or actress rendering his or her part in a manner which leaves the impression that everyone concerned has been occupied in the particular trade or business, or profession for years past. You don't see artistes on the stage, or rather the screen, you see the actual people in a particular episode of their lives. As a contrast, the Indian artistes are still so deficient in this respect that, unless the directors insist on a much superior standard of the histrionic art, they cannot be called as successful in this respect.

Even in the otherwise first class productions like "Madhuri," and "Maya Machindra," it is not difficult to detect several shortcomings in this respect. In "Madhuri" Sulochna is over-self-conscious, where she feels the pangs of thirst and cries out for water. While her humorous and "happy" parts are well rendered, she leaves room for improvement in the tragic scenes. Patwardhan, the hero, could have done much better, and really did not deserve the important part allotted to him. He is absolutely mechanical, and completely fails to put any "life" into his actions and speech.

In "Maya Machindra," Tembe does not come upto expectation, where he mourns the loss of his son. He sings badly and is unable to shed tears.

BADLY WRITTEN STORIES.

One reason, among others, why it has not been possible to improve the art, is because the stories are so badly written that it is impossible for any actor or actress with moderate education, as is generally the case in India, to do justice to them. The authors expect the artistes to be Sanskrit scholars, or Alam Fazals. They use such difficult, compound words, which none of us (including the artistes) have ever used before or hope to use in future. The dialogues, not being of ordinary, every day interest, in plain language, just what you and I use every day, require a big effort to create an impression of successful acting. What we want is, stories of general interest, well told. As long as the authors stick to bombastic, inordinately difficult language, they do not give the artistes a fair chance, and incidently, do a great deal of harm to the industry.

Now watch them speaking on the screen. A husband speaks to his beloved wife explaining the reason of his being late home as if a front-rank statesman is delivering a speech on foreign affairs in Parliament. Any fool can detect that the words have been committed to memory by rote and are being spoken with a sense of their being something extraordinary. For successful acting speech in a perfectly natural manner is essential. We don't want to go to the other extreme and have what we get in some Western films, two men sitting at a table and chatting, but there must be climb-down from this oratorial way of speaking. Some very good productions like "Navchetan" have been marred by the unnatural way of rendering dialogues.

TOO MUCH SINGING.

Again, we have far too much singing. Too much of a good thing—it is sought, I think, to conceal defects in histrionics by having a large number of songs, and singing in Indian films comes in for a good deal of praise, because that is often what is alone praiseworthy. Let us have songs, but only where they are necessary. An effort must be made to study that songs must only be put in where the audience may have a spontaneous feeling that a bit of music would be welcome. But not what I have seen in one instance, people coming to announce foreclosure of mortgage and the poor lone lady shows her contempt for them with a song! It may be rather far-fetched view, but it is another case of faulty acting.

It would be imprudent to close without drawing attention to the harm done to a whole film by the strange way of moving about hands and other limbs, and the curious gesticulations, some of the actors and actresses indulge in. It is not enough to say they eat, they must point the fingers to the mouth. To say they see is insufficient, both the eyes must be touched with a finger. "Feet" and the finger points downwards. The arms must be stretched outwards as complement to the word 'big'—ad nauseum. This must stop.

I have only to repeat what I have said above, that for good acting it is indispensable to undergo a complete metamorphosis, as it were, and it is necessary for the artistes to study the lives and habits of those whom they are going to represent on the screen. Just as we have heard of actors in America and other places, keeping awake at night to be able to act successfully as a somnolent person, or actually getting drunk to be able to portray a drunkard, or spending days with a plumber to represent him on the stage, the artistes in India must work much harder than at present, if they are to achieve their goal.

In conclusion, I hope, it is unnecessary for me to emphasise that no amount of good photography, excellent recording, wonderful settings, attractive dresses, gripping plots, melodious songs, and strings of letters following the names of directors, can make Indian films successful unless a great deal of attention is paid to this all-availing point. Acting is of paramount importance and must be kept in the foremost position by all concerned.

SCREEN TOPICS

CHAPLIN FOR NEW "KID" FILM.

The new Chaplin film, on the final scenario of which Charlie is working at the moment, is to be on the same lines as "The Kid."

Details of the film which is to be silent but sound-synchronised, were revealed by a United Artists Corporation official.

Charlie plays the benefactor of a beautiful girl kleptomaniac, a part to be taken by Paulette Goddard.

MORE FIREWORKS.

Lupe Valez and Jimmie (Schnozzle) Durante are due to work together in a film, and Film-land is breathlessly waiting for trouble.

The fiery Mexican actress and the comedian appeared together in a New York stage play, and it is reported that they addressed each other in terms that were far from endearing. Lupe is also reported to have kicked Jimmie on the shins on various occasions, much to the enjoyment of the audience, who thought it was part of the show.

The feud probably will be continued in their Hollywood film.

U. A.'S PROGRAMME.

Samuel Goldwyn's contributions to the U. A. programme begin with the Ronald Colman picture, "The Masquerader," and proceed, by way of Eddie Cantor's "Roman Scandals," to the grand climax of Anna Sten's first Hollywood film, "Barbary Coast." Goldwyn has had Miss Sten under his banner, receiving full salary, for many months. It is said he is determined to make the most of her when the day of her debut does arrive.

We are also promised that long-awaited Chaplin comedy which Charlie has been turning over and over in his mind for two or three years. Nothing definite is known about it yet—not even the title.

Mae West's next, "I'm No Angel" has gone into production with Cary Grant, Edward Arnold, Gregory Ratoff, Dorothy Peterson, Gertrude Michael, and Russel Hopton in the cast.

"SIGN OF THE CROSS" FILM BANNED

Vagary Of Local J. P's. Prevents Exhibition Of Picture At Bristol

According to the Bristol correspondent of the "Daily Herald", after a private view on Aug. 15 Bristol Licensing Justices decided to prohibit the showing of the film "The Sign of the Cross," freely adapted from Wilson Barrett's play.

"It is understood" says the correspondent, "that the ban has been imposed because of the film's depiction of Roman orgies and its scenes in which Christians are slaughtered by Roman soldiery.

"The justices' decision will affect ten cinemas here. The film has already been screened at Bournemouth and is due to be presented at Cardiff in a few weeks.

"The banning is sure to cause a good deal of anxiety, for Hollywood spent a small fortune on the film.

"Thousands of performers took part and lavish scenes were constructed.

"When the picture was shown for a London season at the Carlton Theatre, Haymarket, Mr. Wilson Barrett's daughter uttered a dramatic protest.

"She declared that the film was not authorised and did not preserve the spirit of the play."

The film was exhibited in Bombay and other cities in India a few months ago and was everywhere hailed as an outstanding production.

"99 NEW PICTURES.

Despite the depression, the production schedules for the coming 1933-34 screen season are well up to strength. In fact, we will be given more pictures than in the previous year.

The Hollywood schedules alone list 360 features from the major studios, an increase of 15 per cent. on the figures for the 1932-33 film year.

British studios and the American independent companies will bring the total up well over 700.

In addition, there will be about 800 "shorts".

ARLISS SURRENDERS A THRONE.

How a democratic King deals with a revolution is told in George Arliss' new picture, "The King's Vacation". Besides Mr. Arliss as Phillip, the King, the cast includes Florence Arliss, Dick Powell and Patricia Ellis, the seventeen-years-old player who was elected a Wampas Baby Star for 1933. The story was written specially for Mr. Arliss by Ernest Pascal, and the film was directed for Warner Brothers by the late John Adolfi, who, until his recent death, directed many of Mr. Arliss' greatest screen successes.

Purshotamdas Tricumdas Appeals For Communal Unity

CAUSES OF UNREST

Communal Question Has Been Misrepresented By Interested Parties, He Says.

Speaking about the communal problem from the platform of the Hindu Sabha on Friday evening, Mr. Purshottam Tricumdas declared that the solution of this problem would become easy if communalist leaders like Dr. Munje and Sir Mahomed Iqbal were asked to mind their own business and left in splendid isolation.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Hindu Young Mens' Association at Girgaum Back Road.

The speaker considered himself competent to speak on a subject like the communal problem because happily he always escaped the communal virus. Even in times of communal stress and riots he had not been able to work himself up as a Hindu, although that might be considered as a disqualification so far as the Association under whose auspices he was speaking was concerned.

MISINTERPRETED.

In the opinion of the speaker the communal question had continued to baffle the political leaders of the country because they had approached the subject entirely from a wrong point of view. Strictly speaking the communal question was not the question of minorities. It was a religious question which had been misinterpreted as the question of minorities by interested persons partly owing to a complete misunderstanding of the situation.

The causes which contributed to the deplorable communal feelings in the country, according to the speaker were, two. The first and foremost of them was the presence in this country of a foreign power.

UNWANTED ORGANISATIONS.

It was the policy of the Government which created the communal electorates. The speaker had no sympathy with communal organisations, such as, Muslim League and the Hindu Sabha and its leaders who helped to emphasise communal differences.

The second cause of the communal unrest was that the country had become awfully religious ridden. The Hindu religion had contributed its quota towards the downfall of this country by its rigidity of caste system and if they wanted to solve the communal question satisfactorily they would have to do away with this nefarious system which divided man and man.

THE ROOT CAUSE.

Religion in this country had become superstition of a kind that was harmful to the cause of the country. It was superstition that brought questions like cow killing and music before mosque to the fore. Both these questions were so utterly absurd that no sensible man could subscribe to them. Why should they object to the Muslims eating beef when English soldiers ate beef?

It was open for them to persuade Muslims to give up beef eating by telling them that such a thing was not in the economic interests of the country. In some parts of Canada and United States cattle killing was forbidden and these countries had some of the finest cattle breeding farms. There was no country which treated its cattle in such a worse manner like India and yet they objected to cow-killing. If the objection was based on economic and utilitarian grounds, then why did not the Hindu carry on agitation for preservation of goats which were equally useful animals.

RESULT OF IGNORANCE.

Similarly the question of music before the mosque was purely an artificial one and these questions arose because of the collosal ignorance in which the country was steeped in. "It is not by emphasising militant Hinduism and militant Islam that the cause of progress in this country will be advanced but by discarding these antiquated and out of date religious beliefs", declared Mr. Tricumdas.

Even Mr. Jinnah who was a few years ago a Nationalist had agreed that communal agitation was a purely artificial one. The speaker could not understand how any one could say that Hindus and Muslims necessarily looked at questions affecting the country from different points of view. Both had to pay the same taxes and were subject to the same laws.

Continuing the speaker thought that the solution of the communal problem did not lie in holding unity conferences and haggling for percentages. He was equally certain that so long as the communal electorates existed it was impossible to solve the communal problem.

"If you want to tackle this problem seriously I would ask you to leave communalist leaders in splendid isolation. Get rid of these artificial differences of religion and caste. Give to the people programmes based on economic differences in the country. That will be the only solution. If you want to creat differences at all create them between classes such as, capitalists on the one hand and labourers on the other and try to see how these interests could be harmonised", was the appeal of the speaker to young Hindus wishing to do patriotic duty towards their motherland.

Alleged Abduction Of Minor Girl For Purposes Of Prostitution

Charged with abducting a minor Muslim girl for the purpose of prostitution one Moonvarbai Hasanmiya, a Muslim woman, was produced before the Fifth Presidency Magistrate, Dadar, on Friday.

It is alleged that the girl in question, Fatmabai Fatemahomed, has been declared by the Police Surgeon to be aged about 16. She was staying with her uncle Mahomed Sidick at Poibawri about three years ago. It appears the accused who was a neighbour used to visit the family often. She thus easily succeeded in taking the girl into her confidence and siezing a favourable opportunity persuaded Sidick's wife to let the girl have a drive with her. Ever sinc then the girl was not to be seen. Acoording to the girl, the accused used to bring stranges and ask her to have sexual intercourse under threat of assault on one occasion actually branding her for her refusal.

During police inquiries it was revealed that the girl had been made to enter into a bogus form of marriage with one Salamat Gulijar, and also that several court cases were pending against the accused.

The Magistrate therefore remanded the accused in police custody until the 11th inst.

HIS TENTH CONVICTION

Muslim Sent To Jail For Stealing Leaves Of Municipal Tree

For stealing leaves from a Municipal tree on the Pedder Road, a Mahomedan, Dinmahomed Fezmahomed, was convicted and sentenced to suffer nine months' rigorous imprisonment, by the Presidency Magistrate Fourth Court, Girgaum, on Friday.

The accused, pleading guilty to the charge brought against him, stated that he had robbed the leaves in order to feed his goat. Had he been in employment, he added, he would never have been tempted to commit such a paltry offence over and over again.

As the accused had nine previous convictions to his credit already for similar offences, the Magistrate inflicted on him the above sentence.

How A Woman May Retain Her Youth

"The woman who wants to look young must taboo massage creams and liquid rouge. She will only harden the structure of her face and destroy the fine texture of the skin," said Mrs. Margaret Holmes Bates, the well-known author.

"Reputable physicians have declared that if she indulges in artificial methods she risks losing her health," she continued. A perfectly natural method of treating a bad complexion is by using ordinary mercolized wax, as this adds nothing to the complexion, but takes from it instead. This wax, obtainable at any chemist's, flakes off the sallow or blotchy outer skin in fine particles gently, without harming the skin beneath which gradually makes its appearance. The brilliantly beautiful complexion thus obtained is a new one—quite different from a patched-up old complexion. This is one way to retain youthful looks.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Feeling Great

If you wake up in the morning feeling sour and depressed, entirely lacking in vim and vigour, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil or harsh purgatives and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

They can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The real reason for your run down feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Your stomach is filled with gas. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "tip top". They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts especially effective when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Always look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the Red Package Label.

(From A Correspondent.)

JAMNAGAR, Aug. 30.

The Jamnagar & Dwarka Railway Cricket Club scored an easy victory over the Bahauddin College of Junagad in a two-day cricket match played on the latters' ground at Junagad. The Bahauddin College XI. who took first knock, started rather disastrously losing their first two wickets for a single. The team could compile only 58 runs, thanks to the deadly bowling of Keshavlal who took 5 wickets for 5 runs. Amar Singh took 3 wickets for 27, Pathak was the topscorer with 18 runs to his credit. The Jamnagar and Dwarka Railway XI replied with 71 runs Dholakia and Amar Singh contributing 24 and 13 runs respectively. Gulamali took 5 wickets for 16 runs.

In their second venture also, the Bahauddin College lost their first two wickets for a single. Later, however runs came in a little speedier and the team made 84 runs, Tawrei contributing 39 and Shukla 21. Amar Singh the All-India, player, was in form and had to his credit 6 wickets for 34 runs. The Jamnagar & Dwarka Railway XI commenced their second innings disastrously and lost their first two wickets for 0 and the next two for an addition of 20 runs. Amarsingh who was the fifth to go in, however, lifted the rot that had set in, and runs came in speedily. The Railway XI had to secure 97 runs which they did for the loss of 5 wickets and thus won by 5 wickets. The interesting feature of the innings was the splendid performance of Amar Singh who played all round the wicket and collected 72 runs which included four 4's and three 6's. Keshavlal (not out) was the next topscorer with 18 runs to his rredit. Munshi had all the wickets to his credit for 49 runs.

HOAD CARRIES HIS BAT FOR 149 AGAINST SUSSEX

Martin-Nichol Partnership For Worcester Yields 243 Runs

LONDON, Aug. 31.

At Blackpool the match appeared easy, but Mitchell who at one time had an analysis of 3 wickets for 10 runs, returned the final analysis of 8 wickets for 38 runs.

At the Oval the left-hand bowler Marlow in one splendid spell took 4 Surrey wickets yielding 7 runs in three overs of which one was a maiden. Later on his analysis was 5 overs, 1 malden, 14 runs, 5 wickets, but finally however he yielded more runs returning an analysis of 5 wickets 62 runs. The fourth wicket partnership between Ames and Todd produced 152 runs in 150 minutes at Lord's.

Todd's 74 included nine 4's. Ames to-day scored his eighth century of the season. Driving finely he batted for 220 minutes hitting in all thirteen boundaries.

Price kept wicket brilliantly at Hove and not a single bye was scored.

HOAD UNDEFEATED.

Hoad who was undefeated at the end batted for 5 hours, and his chief hits were fourteen 4's. Griffiths played a sparkling innings and besides lifting the ball thrice over the ropes he reached the boundary seven times.

The last wicket partnership produced 138 runs. Melville was very stubborn till his passed his 50 in 90 minutes, but his final stay at the wicket lasted 165 minutes. With Cook he put on 112 in an hour, and fifteen boundaries were included in his score of 114.

MOORE SCORES 159 RUNS.

At Bournemouth Moore scored 159 which is the best score made by an amateur for Hampshire since 1928. After batting 225 minutes he was out in skying the ball to a terrific height when attempting to hook one of the deliveries received by him. Moore is only nineteen years of age. He drove on both sides, and his cutting and legging were equally fine. Martin played a careful but skilful innings for Worcester. He took 1-1/2 hours to reach his individual 50. When he had collected 95 runsf he reached his 1,000 runs for the season, and when he hoisted his century Worcester had put on 186 in 160 minutes.

Martin who hit three 6's with Nichol put on 100 in an hour. Nichol to-day scored his eighth century of the season. He reached his century in 215 minutes, and during his stay at the wicket for 265 minutes he executed brilliant offdroves, and hit not less than twentyone 4's. Mr. Mehta Withdraws Motion On Prevention Of Prostitution Act.

POONA, Sept. 1.

At question time in the Bombay Council to-day, a question by Rao Bahadur R. V. Vandekar inquiring whether Government intended taking legislative action to protect the public of the Presidency from dental quack, elicited the reply that Government had under consideration a bill to control the practice of dentistry but had suspended action until they were able to provide a regular course of training and definite qualification in dentistry. Government had approved of the scheme for a dental school and hospital attached to the Grant Medical College, but it would have to stand over till Government were in a position to make the necessary provision.

KARACHI MUNICIPAL BILL.

The House then proceeded with amendments to the Karachi Municipal Bill. Mr. Jamshed Mehta proposed the incorporation of the whole of the prevention of Prostitution Act as an amendment to Clause 181 which he desired to be deleted. On the Legal Remembrancer explaining that either the Prostitution Act could be applied or the provisions of the clause enforced and that the motion was unnecessary, the mover withdrew it. The other clauses of the bill were thereafter quickly passed, before tea interval.

The House then took up amendments to schedules.

BILL PASSED.

After the interval amendments to ten schedules of the Karachi Municipal Bill were disposed of in an hour and Sir Rustom Vakil, Minister in charge in proposing the third reading thanked the House for the patience with which numerous clauses and amendments were discussed. He had thought that in view of the expected separation of Sind the Members of that Province would not take serious interest in the debate. He had been pleasantly surprised as all had given great assistance.

The third reading of the Bill was then passed, members of the opposition benches greeting this stage with applause.

INSOLVENCY ACT AMENDED.

The Bill to amend the Presidency Town Insolvency Act of 1909 in its application to the town of Bombay was then introduced by Mr. Bell, the Home Member. The object of the Bill is to transfer certain funds amounting to 28 lakhs from the Official Assignee to the Government of Bombay. All the three readings were taken and passed without discussion.

PROBLEM OF MAVALIS.

The Home Member then introduced the Bill to amend the Bombay District Police Acts, 1902 and 1890 Bill. The mover said that it was brought forward to settle the never ending problem of the 'Mavali'. A similar Bill passed in 1929 was intended for times of emergency when the Commissioner of Police had power to extern leaders of gangs but power was needed to deal with hundreds of hooligans that were the cause of riots. If such men who had three previous convictions came to Bombay (including the Bombay suburban area) and abused the City's hospitality they would be externed.—A. P.

Kalal, September 1.—A big meeting was held here to protest against Government fixing Broach as Headquarters for Panchmahals district and proposed bill to amend local Board Act, giving powers to Executives to form two district boards.

PAN-HINDU SHRAVANI

Annual Ritual Of Renewing Sacred Thread Performed In Temple

SHASTRI'S SERMON

Hindus And Harijans Sit Side By Side & Gathering Wears "Janoi" Knowing No Inequality.

RATNAGIRI, Sept. 1.

A Pan-Hindu Shravani, an important annual ritual of renewing the sacred thread was performed to-day in a Hindu temple here. Vidyavachaspati Valawalkar Shastri of Kolhapur officiated as the chief priest, while Brahmins, caste Hindus, Maharas and other members of the depressed classes sat side by side, pouring sacrificial offerings and oblations into the sacred fire.

The entire gathering was allowed to wear the sacred thread. The function closed with a sermon by Valawalkar Shastri, pointing out that all Hindus without distinction were entitled to common religious rites, 'knowing no inequality save what virtue and merit demanded.—A. P.

NON-STOP CLUB-SWINGING

Mr. Shikari Breaks His Own Record Of 62 Hours

The following report was received in the "Bombay Chronicle" office at 11-30 p.m. on Friday:—

"Mr. Ali Hoosain Shikari, who commenced his effort at non-stop club-swinging on Wednesday 30th August 1933 at 11 A.M. is still going strong at it. This fact of endurance is still more amazing because Mr. Shikari's left hand has been disabled some years back owing to an accident. Hence, all the while, the swinging of the club is done practically with one hand only.

The doctors looking after him have been examining him at intervals, and their latest report says that after about 60 hours of continuous club-swinging Mr. Shikari is wonderfully energetic and normal.

People of all communities have been turning up in unprecedented numbers, day and night, to witness the feat and encourage him."

LATER

A little after 1 a.m. on Saturday we received a telephonic message saying that Mr. Shikari had broken his own record for India, of 62 hours, and that he is out to break the world's record of 76 hours.

BLAKE'S SUCCESS IN SIND TENNIS

Wins Mixed Doubles Title With Mrs. Pollard

KARACHI, Sept. 1.

The downfall of Daryanani in the semifinal in Singles of the Sind Tennis Tournament, B. T. Blake was anticipated, but none expected that the loser would fare so disastrously. Blake scored a startling success mainly by relying on his untakeable forehand drives. He whipped shots which went corner to corner. After losing the first set without a single game Daryanani put up a good fight in losing the second set wherein he annexed four games.

Bhojwani was the big attraction in the centre of the court, in partnership with Mrs. Helps he overcame S. E. West and Mrs. Hossacks in a game where every point was punctuated with applause.

MIXED FINAL

Wining in two straight sets Bhojwani and Mrs. Helps faced Mrs. Pollard and Blake. Blake set a terrific pace in the first set which he won with the loss of two games. In the second set tables were turned and Bhojwani and his partner annexed it almost from the jaws of defeat. The third set Blake opened with a battery of attack against the tired Mrs. Helps, winning it at 6/2. Thus Blake won the Mixed Doubles title with Mrs. Pollard.

RESULTS

Singles, A. T. Blake beat R. S. Daryanani 6/0 6/4.

Mixed Doubles, Semi final, Mrs. Helps and Bhojwani beat Mrs. Hossack and S. E. West 6/4 6/3 Final Mrs. Pollard and B. T. Blake beat Mrs. Helps and D. W. Bhojwani 6/2 5/7 6/2.—A. P.

ANTI-VALERA COMBINE

Stop Trade War Is Its Slogan

DUBLIN, Aug. 31.

The announcement of a definite move in the direction of the fusion of the principal anti-De Valera parties into the United National Party under Mr. Cosgrave is expected in the next 48 hours. Should such a party eventuate its main plank will be the cessation of "trade war" with England. If achieved the union might cause Government to change its mind and make a early appeal to the country. In the meantime Mr. de Valera does not intend to reply to the I.R.A. attacks but the matter will doubtless come before the Executive Council.—Reuter.

NO PUBLIC DISPENSARIES?

Panel System Of Doctors In Karachi Under Municipal Control

S. M. UNION'S SCHEME

Karachi Municipality Will Consider Principle Underlying System Shortly.

(From Our Correspondent.)

KARACHI, Sept. 1

The Medical practioners of Karachi mustered strong at the Sind Medical Union meeting last night to consider the scheme of panel system based on voluntary co-operative lines prepared by Dr. T. K. Uttamsingh. It does away with the present system of public dispensaries wherein a single doctor attends to a number of patients within a few hours, giving them only hurried attention.

According to the proposed panel system, people will be asked to contribute rupee one per head to the municipality and select their own doctors from among the doctors appointed by the municipality as panel doctors.

According to the number of the patients on the list of each such doctor he will be paid twelve annas per head per year and he will attend to the patients, medicines to be dispensed at the municipal dispencing stations.

Visiting charges will be concessestablished in the various localisional as fixed by the Municipality.

Doctors under the panel system will, however, be permitted to treat non-panel patients as private patients. People whose income after reducing Rs. 25 for each member of the family, exceeds Rs. 75 will not be permitted to join the panel system.

The meeting unanimously accepted the principle underlying the panel system which the municipality will shortly consider.

AMERICA'S UNEMPLOYED

Keen Controversy Over Re-employment Figures

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.

Hot controversy has developed as to how many of America's twelve million unemployed have found work. Challenging General, Johnson's estimate that two million have been re-employed, Mr Preen, President of the Federation of Labour, while admitting that half a million have returned to work in July, declares that there is no evidence of any being re-employed since.

Other authorities estimate that a million have been re-employed. Thus recovery is lagging behind General Johnson's original production that extra five to six millions will find work before the beginning of September.

Meanwhile the cost of living is rising steadily the official estimate is not available, but general store prices have risen by six and half percent from April to July.—Reuter.

MISLEADING HEADLINES IN "FREE PRESS JOURNAL"

Magistrate Agrees With Counsel's Complaint Of Prejudice In Shaukat Ali-Sadanand Case

Further hearing of the case in which Maulana Shaukat Ali is charging Mr. S. Sadanand, Editor, and Mr. D. N. Nadkarni, Printer, of the Free Press Journal and the now defunct (Free Press Bulletin), was resumed at the Esplanade Police Court before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Bombay, on Friday afternoon. The Court room was packed with visitors.

MISLEADING HEADLINE.

At the very outset Mr. Noori drew the attention of the Court to a headline given in the Free Press Journal of Friday morning in the report of the proceedings of the Shaukat Ali v. Sadanand Case. The words "Angora Relief Fund" that did not reach Angora" Counsel pointed out was misleading and was likely to prejudice the prosecution. The Magistrate observed that it was not desirable to give such headlines during the course of the trial of the case' Mr. Kanuga said the prosecution have no reason to complain, as the Central Khilafat Committee had passed a resolution that a portion of the money was not to be sent to Angora.

Magistrate: The headline raises the question as to who has pocketed the money?

Mr. Kanuga: We have not put this headline with a view to prejudice any party.

ANGORA FUNDS.

Maulana Shaukat Ali then entered the witness box and answering to Mr. Kanuga stated that the late Mr. Chotani was the President of the Khilafat Committee and his brother Mr. Ahmed Chotani was the Treasurer of the Khilafat Funds. The funds were deposited with Messrs. Chhotani & Co., who acted as Bankers to the Central Khilafat Committee. The accounts of the fund were all maintained in the books of the Khilafat Committee.

It was unfortunate said Maulana Shaukat Ali that the business enterprises of Mr. Chhotani should have failed as the Firm was theirs unable under the circumstances to return the sum of about Rs. 16 lacs that remained with the Firm to the credit of the Angora Relief Fund.

As a result of certain negotiations, witness said, the Sewree Saw Mills was taken over and managed by a special Committee. Witness was a member of this Committee along with two others in 1924 when they formed members of the second Board.

"DOCTORS" INSTEAD OF "ENGINEERS".

Mr. Kanuga: Did you manage this und on behaff of the Angora Turks or on behalf of the Central Khilafat Committee?

Witness: The Central Khilafat Committee asked the Angora people to send a deputation of Engineers to take charge of the Mills. To their great surprise a deputation of Doctors arrived in Bombay from Angora to take charge of the Mills. (Laughter).

SOLD STOCKS OF MILLS.

This deputation, witness continued stayed in Bombay for about 3 or 4 months and disposed off some of the stocks taken over from Mr. Chhotani at the time the Millls were taken charge of by the Board, and left for Angora. The deputation had also left instructions with the Central Khilafat Committee that the Mills should be sold off and the proceeds be sent to them. Every possible effort was made to sell the Mills but they failed and the Angora deputation was informed and the Board handed over the Mills to the Central Khilafat Committee.

Mr. Kanuga: When did this happen?

Witness: In 1927.

NO RIGHT TO QUESTION.

Mr. Noori: Whether we hold it on behalf of the Angora people or the Central Khilafat Committee the Defence have no right to ask these questions unless they are trying to prove that these monies were misappropriated by the witness.

Mr. Kanuga: I have documentary evidence to prove that the Angora people had not consented to the transfer of the Mills to the Central Khilafat Committee and I am going to prove that the funds ear-marked for the Angora Relief fund was used for other purposes of propaganda and also the maintenance of the Khilafat Press.

At this stage further cross examination on this point was held over as certain documents were to be produced by the prosecution.

"BLOOD-STAINED KNIVES"

Mr. Noori addressing the Court said that the first charge relate to the finding of "blood stained knives" and not to the misapplication of Khilafat Funds. Mr. Kanuga pointed out that in the report published it is not mentioned that the witness had put the "bood stained knives" in the Van.

Mr Noori retorted that knives were reported as found in the Khilafat Van and the Volunteers were arrested.

Mr. Kanuga maintained that this does not still prove that Maulana Shaukat Ali had put the knives in the Van.

NOT CONCERNED WITH ACCOUNTS.

Mr. Kanuga then turned to a report published in September 1924 of the accounts of the Central Khilafat Committee.

Mr. Kanuga: Was this account of the Central Khilafat Committee published in September 1924?

Mr. Noori objected on the ground that this matter was irrelevant to the issues before the Court.

Magistrate: What has this account got to do with the case?

Mr. Kanuga: This account as published shows the debit side inflated by a sum of Rs. 70,000.

The Magistrate: That is a matter of accounts into which the Court is not concerned at present. He therefore uphed the objection.

PRODUCE RESOLUTION

Mr. Kanuga then turned to the question of the Constitution of the Central Khilafat Committee and asked the witness to produce the resolution passed by the Central Khilafat Committee authorising him to launch this prosecution. Maulana Shaukat Ali said that there was a resolution passed but it was not in Court at the moment and so further questions on this issue was reserved for the next hearing.

MUSLIM VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Continuing his cross-examination of the witness Mr. Kanuga asked when the Muslim Volunteer Corps was first started. Witness said that it was in the year 1919 that he first became acquainted with the Volunteers when he saw a batch of Muslim Volunteers at Amritsar at the All-India Khilafat Conference.

It was in 1930 as a result of an appeal made by the late Maulana Mohamed Ali that the Volunteer Movement was started all over India. About 30 to 40 Volunteer Corps were formed in Bombay under the Command of his son Zahid Ali and the whole organisation was controlled by the Khilafat Volunteer Board. Witness personally had very little to do with them. Witness stated that this Khilafat Vounteer Board had certain rules and controlled the enrolling of only respectable and trustworthy men as Volunteers.

MOHALLAS PROVIDED FUNDS.

Each of these Volunteer Corps were maintained by the different Mohallas and they provided for the equipment and other necessaries. The Central Khilafat Committee maintained the Muslim Volunteer Corp and bore the expenses of that Corp only. The strength of this Volunteer corp was about 230. The parades and drills were held at the Khilafat House. Referring to a passage in the complaint Mr. Kanuga asked the witness to name any other Muslim volunteer corps organised by others outside the control of the Khilafat Volunteer Board. Witness stated that he was unable to remember any names at present. Pressed for an answer witness stated that he did not know of any.

Continuing his evidence Maulana Shaukat Ali said that he was the declared Editor of the Khilafat and that all contributions from him appeared under his own signature in the daily Khilafat.

At this stage further hearing was postponed to Saturday at 3-30 p.m.

BON VOYAGE TO MR. K. V. SHAH.

A meeting of some of the residents of Devagad Baria was held at Hirabagh on Wednesday last Dr. C. M. Mehta presiding, to wish "bon voyage" to Mr. Kantilal Vadilal Shah, B.Com., who is proceeding to England for higher studies in banking, etc.

Mr. Shah was praised for his services to the Jain student community at the Maha Vir Jain Vidyalaya. Mr. Shah assured his friends that he would always continue to serve his community, and thanked them all for their kind wishes.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1933

PLAN OF EXTERMINATION

Fresh trouble is brewing in South Africa for the Indian community, and this time the Union Government appear to aim at nothing less than wholesale eviction of Indians under the guise of carrying out a plan of voluntary colonisation. The trouble began with the announcement made a short while ago that the Government had appointed a Departmental Committee to explore the possibilities of a colonisation scheme for settling Indians, both from India and South Africa, in other countries.

The appointment of the Committee was, it is true, in accordance with a clause in the Agreement arrived at by the Round Table Conference of 1932 between the representatives of the Government of India and the Union Government. But that clause, however satisfactory to the two Governments, has never been acceptable to the Indians in South Africa. Their distrust of it has been increased by the indiscriminate manner in which over 13,000 Indians, mostly South African born, have had to clear out of South Africa under what is called a scheme of "assisted emigration". They now naturally fear that any support to a wider scheme of colonisation to various foreign countries will only lead to their total extermination in South Africa.

INDIANS' NON-CO-OPERATION.

During the last few weeks the Indians in South Africa have held several public meetings severely condemning the proposed plan of colonisation and have refused to co-operate in any way with the Government Committee. Before the full implications of the plan were clear to the Indians and publicly discussed by them, the Executive of the South African Indian Congress had approved of co-operating with the Committee for the time being, without prejudice to their right of rejecting the Committee's recommendations. But the growing discontent among the Indians cannot fail to compel the Congress to reconsider its hasty decision.

It will be most unwise for the Congress to flout the unequivocally expressed opinion of a vast majority of the Indian community. It should also remember that, by co-operating with the Committee, it accepts in advance the principle of its terms of reference, viz., that the South-African born Indians are undesirable aliens and should leave the land of their birth to pamper the White men's racial prejudice. Though the Congress has reserved to itself the right of rejecting the Committee's decisions, it will only stultify itself by accepting the very principle of colonisation.

INVITATION TO SUICIDE.

It is indeed amazing that the colonial-born Indians should have been called upon at all to assist in a scheme calculated only to exterminate them. They ought to have the right to remain in and serve the land of their birth as long as they like. Nor are they so numerous as to overwhelm the white population or in any way prejudice their economic or political status. It must never be forgotten that the present colonial-born Indians are the children of those who first went to South Africa nearly three quarters of a century ago, not on account of destitution here but in response to a call from South Africa to help in the development of the country. It is an unmitigated shame for the South African Government now to requite the services of the Indian pioneers by seeking to hound their children out of the very land they have helped to build up. There are thousands of unoccupied acres in South Africa itself where the Indians can be easily settled.

IDLE SUGGESTION.

When they are treated as undesirable aliens in their own native country, it is idle to talk of settling them in other countries where they have no special claim for any consideration. Or is it intended that they should be exploited to develop fresh lands for the benefit of the Whites only to be driven out by them from those lands when they are no longer necessary? The South African-born Indians justly refuse to be hounded out of their native land and it is the first duty of the South African Indian Congress to stand by them and fight their battle for their birthright.

Does He Know The Facts ?

It is extraordinary that Sir Joseph Bhore should have made himself responsible for the statements he made in the Assembly, speaking on Mr. Haroon's motion for raising the duty on all imports of foreign cotton into India. The case made out by Sir Joseph is far from convincing, though the mover himself, who does not know the real conditions in the country, was easily unnerved by the array of figures placed before the Assembly by the Government spokesman. The Commerce Member asked the members not to take Japan's threat of boycott very seriously, because Japan exported in July 57,000 bales from India against 5,000 bales for the same period last year. Even from Karachi the same tell-tale figures convinced the Commerce Member that Japan was shamming.

We should like to know from Sir Joseph Bhore whether the large number of bales purchased by Japan were fresh purchases, or were in fulfilment of past contracts which it was impossible for that country to repudiate. The large exports conclusively prove that the Japanese firms were at once sending to their country all the purchases they may have made months ago, before the boycott was declared. Only the other day the East India Cotton Association sent a telegram to the Government of India appealing to them not to discriminate against Japan, as the price of Indian cotton had gone down considerably owing to the Japanese boycott. If that is the view of the very body created by the Government to control cotton in Bombay, we wonder whether the Commerce Member was in full possession of all relevant facts Can he give a guarantee, or a reasonable assurance, that the present rate of exports to Japan will be maintained for all time? We do not deny that a few hundred bales may have been purchased by Japan to meet her commitments in regard to certain qualities of cloth, but that does not mean that the Japanese were merely telling fibs.

The Commerce Member stated that only 8 per cent of American cotton was used by Indian mills, which could very well have been replaced by Indian. Here again: Is the Commerce Member certain that the Indian millowner can be relied on to observe the present ratio for ever? Last year the millowners purchased a very large quantity of American cotton, because it was cheaper to do so and we are sure our patriotic millowners will do the same thing over again, if it is cheaper to buy foreign cotton or if Mr. Roosevelt gives them a large loan and long credit as he has done to the Soviet.

Then again we do not know why the Bombay Corporation, the Port Trust, the Government of India and everybody else are so strongly opposed to levying a small duty on imports of foreign cotton into India. At present the Government are already doing it, which shows that the principle itself is not repugnant to anybody. If the Government of India can do it with impunity, we do not see why a fresh and small imposition of duty should ruin the trade of Bombay. If the millowners can very easily pay a duty of six pies, per pound of foreign cotton, surely cotton can bear a further small duty of Re. 1 per bale—the same as is paid on all Indian cotton imported into Bombay. We do not expect much consistency from anybody in such matters, but facts must be brought to the notice of the public to expose the hollowness of the whole case.

A Nauseating Sip

The Indian States Protection Bill, which Sir Harry Haig has just introduced in the Assembly, given us a sip, but a very nauseating sip, from the cup of Federation, the exact contents of which are not yet known. One is unable to understand the reason for this sudden spread of the wings of protection of the British Government or the unseemly hurry either. Hereafter the Princes are to remain immune from any blame or criticism of their administration and conduct and the sufferings of the States people under them should go unnoticed. The recent happenings in Kashmir, Alwar and the memorable happenings in Patiala are sufficient proofs that the whims and fancies, and cravings for personal pomp and pleasure on the part of the Princes may run riot unless there is strong and effective criticism.—"Swaraj-ya."

Appeal To Gandhiji

We feel certain that all those Congressmen who accepted the leadership of the Mahatma did so in the belief that they would thereby increase the prestige, the influence and the strength of the great national organisation. Can they allow it to be liquidated, without moving their little finger, because the Mahatma has decreed its being wound up? We do not think so. It is probable that the movement for its rehabilitation would have assumed by now a definite shape had not a fresh crisis been precipitated by the sudden decision of the Mahatma to fast. Congressmen will now watch and wait for the Mahatma's new move. May it be hoped that this time he will give the lead which the Congress needs and will extricate it from its present difficulties, instead of obstinately sticking to a policy and a programme the futility of which has been demonstrated?—"Leader."

In His True Colours

Arguing on the premises that Sir Shanmukham Chetty has laid down for himself, the solution of India's problem is easy enough. Since according to him the ambitions of India and Lord Willingdon are the same, "it only remains that we should co-operate with His Excellency." Does Sir Shanmukham Chetty forget the very recent achievements of Lord Willingdon? His persistent refusal of an interview to Mahatma Gandhi against the unanimous wish of India has shown him in his true colours. Lord Willingdon may or may not be India's first constitutional Governor-General. But India will have to look elsewhere for her political salvation.—"National Call."

Unredressed Grievances

In a statement to the press on the Home Member's replies in regard to the Andamans prisoners Swami Jnananda has conclusively shown that none of the demands made by the prisoners is unreasonable or goes beyond the Jail Code. There is the Home Member's assurance that political prisoners sent to the Andamans would be given diet which they were habituated to take in their province. Swamiji declares that the food given to the prisoners in the Andamans is very much worse than what is given in the Indian jails. The main grievance of the prisoners however is regarding classification. The political prisoners sent to the Andamans are mostly educated youths belonging to respectable middle-class families. Even if the Government made rules were interpreted and applied properly, none of them would have been placed in the lowest class.—"Liberty."

Dissolve It

A general election will be the best means of finding out whether the measures approved by the Government for the suppression of the voice of criticism, have the sanction of the electorate, limited though that electorate may be. If the Assembly is dissolved at the end of the present session, elections may be held by the end of this year and the new Assembly can meet in time for the next budget session To the public and the Government alike, it will furnish an opportunity to test the validity of views and actions which, because they have not been openly challenged, are presumed to be right.

ALL FOR MORAL EFFECT

Britannia's Peace Mission In The Hills

By BERTIC PAUL.

Britannia, the winged messenger of Peace and Civilisation is at the moment hovering amidst the rugged hills of the Frontier. High among the hills she soars, the only beacon that reminds the savage Pathan of a virtuous and blessed factor that has successfully settled in the fair lands nearby, like a cuckoo in a crow's nest!

No one can justify or excuse Britannia's intrusion in a foreign land on any moral ground whatsoever. Even the English race will never be so mean as to justify intrusion. But Britannia changes with climatic conditions: she has a character at home and a history in Asia!

The fly in the ointment at present, is that a savage Pathan tribe asserted its self-respect in Britannia's sweet face and refused to surrender "agitators" into her divine custody. For, hospitality and honour have a deeper and a more manly significance among the savage tribes of the Frontier than anywhere in the civilised countries of the West!

FIRE WORKS.

As a result the British cock marched out to meet the Frontier cock and a fight was imminent. The British cock, however, caused "fire-works" to be let off from above on the Frontier cock who took fright and stampeded unceremoniously! The British cock is now in sole possession of the yard and he still parades up and down in search of the other cock with as much pride as a Britisher ever held in his chest!

This letting-off of "fire-works" we have been told is entirely an economic measure. Any relief from the burden on our shoulders is good enough in these hard times! For, we found it difficult many many years ago to spend 40 crores on a set of hooligans to guard our frontier!

Besides, these economic measures are very effective measures, in that they completely destroy the whole area and strip it bare of every form of life and property.

DESTRUCTION COMPLETE.

After 24 hours notice to the Pathans to quit their villages, a R.A.F. squadron drops bombs and razes to the ground every structure in the village, be it the tower, the poor man's hut, or the cowshed. What is left over by dynamite is then destroyed by means of 4,000 incendiary bombs, dropped by each 'plane that consign every conceivable form of life and property to the flames! The beauty of this measure is that "No innocents suffer at all"! Can anything be more complete?

We, Indians are certainly proud that the soldiers whom we have hired for defending India have

Frankly Speaking

MATTER OF REAL URGENCY

It is difficult to agree with the Assembly President's ruling preventing the adjournment motion on Frontier bombing. The member was quite justified in his plea that he wanted to hear what the Viceroy had to say in this important matter before giving notice.

After the Viceroy had justified bombing and praised the humanity of such a process, the Assembly had a perfect right to ventilate its protest. His amazing dictum, in itself, constitutes a matter of urgency.

The question has been agitating the minds of the public since the operations started, and it was the duty of the President to give the mover the fullest lattitude to discuss the question.

The bombardment may have taken place in the beginning of August, but operations are going on, bombing may be renewed at any moment and the policy underlying the bombardment requires to be condemned with all the emphasis possible in order to make a resumption of it impossible.

It is wrong to shut out discussion and we are sorry that Sir R. K. Shanmukham Chetty was unable to appreciate the urgency and overwhelming importance of the matter.

DE VALERA'S DIFFICULTIES

We do not very much envy Mr. De Valera his difficult position.

It is apparent that the fall in trade may be made the rallying point by his enemies, though we have yet to know how far they will be successful in their campaign against him.

Mr. De Valera seems to have the public on his side, despite all the newspaper propaganda carried on against him. While the "Blue Shirts" want to retain the British connection, the Irish Republican Army wants an Irish Republic to be declared immediately.

Perhaps between the two extremists, Mr. De Valera may succeed in retaining his supreme political position. At any rate he has not lost his head, as Mr. Cosgrave did when he was in power.

He has treated his enemies with consideration and not tried them by drumhead court-martials. That is a great point in his favour.

FLIMSY CASE

From the very beginning we had no doubt that what is called the Anand Mandal conspiracy case was bound to fail in the High Court, where a jury sifted the evidence, and a High Court judge interpreted the law.

In the first instance, the case ought not to have been committed to the Sessions, as there was almost no evidence against the accused. Even the Committing Magistrate had his doubts and expressed them in the Court.

The case, on the face of it, was too ingenious to be true. But now that conspiracies are in fashion all over India, and so many trials are going on everywhere, the Bombay Police perhaps did not want to be left out.

And so we had a conspiracy case in Bombay. Once before we had one, and the accused were acquitted by the High Court. Now this is the second case. We do not know whether the Police have got any more evidence for a fresh case, though we hope not.

The case had been dragging on for some months now, and we do not know how much the accused had to spent to get themselves out of the clutches of the law.

REVENUE FIRST.

It is useless for the Bombay Municipal Corporation to ask the Government to concede to it the right to determine the number and location of liquor shops in the City.

The Government, who are determined to exploit the right to the utmost and squeeze out the highest profit from it, will certainly refuse to part with it.

The resolution that is now being considered by the Corporation naively refers to the policy of gradual reduction of drinking in the City, adopted by the Government.

The policy of progressive prohibition was tried for only a few years. But when it threatened to be far more effective than Government liked, they dropped it and seem now to be making strenuous attempts to recover lost ground by starting as many new shops as possible and locating them just where they are likely to tempt most people.

It is all right for the Corporation to talk of checking the drinking habit among the poor labour classes. But what about the revenue the Government lose?

ORTHODOXY RUN MAD

Like the Bourbons, Mr. M. K. Acharya neither learns nor unlearns.

While he is sane enough to condemn forced suttee, he would admire and glorify it if it were voluntary. He stated that view before the Joint Committee and has elaborated it in a press interview at Madras.

Referring to the attempt made a few days ago by a Bengali Hindu widow to burn herself on her husband's funeral pyre, he is reported to have said that if he were satisfied that her conduct was deliberate, he "would not intefere but would allow her to burn."

We may believe that of Mr. Acharya, but sane Hindus will unreservedly condemn his dictum that "the ideal of a chaste wife is to immolate herself with her husband."

We are sure, however, that with all his cant about marital love transcending death, he will not go quite so far as to say that the ideal of a chaste husband is to immolate himself with his wife.

A BREACH OF TRUST

From R. V. Satwari, Mansa.

As a Hindu, as a Vaishnava, as a member of the family which has been serving in the Indian States for the last 104 years, as an ex-Dewan of three First Class States and as a staunch advocate of the existence of the Indian States, provided they are well-governed, I think I have got a right to place my humble views before the Darbar Saheb of Mangrol through the columns of your paper and request him to dispassionately consider whether the order of 1933 shoud not be cancelled.

As to most of the Indian States, the impression which has gained ground is that even the written pledges and contracts made by them can have no sanctity. If they are violated in British India the parties aggrieved have got a remedy. In numerous cases Judicial Officers in British India have passed orders and decrees against the British Government if they are satisfied that the case against it is made out.

In 1851 A.D. the Ruling Chief of Mangrol held out a written assurance to the Hindu Mahajan that cows would not be allowed to be slaughtered in the limits of the State. This assurance seems to have been given through the mediation of the Agency. On the faith of that pledge and in the hope that it would be scrupulously observed by the Chiefs of Mangrol, the members of the Mahajan returned to Mangrol, spent large sums of money during the interval and contributed in various ways to the prosperity of the State. The order of 1933 is a clear violation of the pledge given years ago. In my opinion it constitutes a breach of trust.

Moreover even according to the version of the State it was not at all necessary to pass the order The version is that in spite of the order of 1851 cows were slaughtered by Mahomedans in the Mangrol State and that no complaint was ever lodged against it by the Mahajan or any Hindu.

If this version be true where was the need of revoking the firman of 1851 and giving a license to Mahomedans to slaughter cows! Assuming for the sake of argument that such a slaughter is enjoined in the Koran, the Darbar Saheb of Mangrol cannot certainly say that the deliberate violation of the sacred pledge is in consonance with the sacred tenets of the Koran.

One who has carefully read the Firmans issued by the State from time to time during the last three months in justification of the order of 1933 can come to only one conclusion and it is that the fanaticism of ill-advisers of the Darbar Saheb is solely responsible for the order.

The Hindus and Mahomedans in the Mangrol State have lived as brothers. The order of 1933 has sown the seed of poison. It must prejudicially affect the cordial relations which existed between the two communities. This cannot conduce to the welfare even of the State.

Who Will Foot The Bill?

From B. F. Bharucha.

The British claim to be the Trustees of India. May we know:

(1) Whose Trustees they are? For, we have Princes' India; Anglo-India and Indian India. So, whose Trustees are they—the British Rulers of India?

(2) If they are Trustees of Princes' India, do they stand for the Princes or for the People?

(3) If they stand for the People, why do they let a Jaipur Prince spend lacs of rupees in Polo and Sports in England?

(4) A Jodhpur Prince in big game shooting in Africa?

(5) A Rajpipla Prince in Races?

(6) Who will foot these Bills? And if the State Treasury touches the bottom, will not the people be over-taxed? When and where does the Trusteeship come? Before or after the fair?

Best Bus Fares

From P. Sitaram.

From the new fare tables in force from the 1st instant exhibited in the A Route Buses, one notices with great relief that the fares have been considerably reduced. But the following anomalies have to be set right.

1. Fare from R. C. Church to Museum is 1 anna and the fare from Museum to Crawford Market is 1 anna but the fare from R. C. Church to Crawford Market is 3 annas.

2. The fare from Colaba Post Office to Museum is 1 anna, the fare from Museum to Crawford Market is 1anna but the fare from Colaba Post Office to Crawford Market is 3 annas.

It is hoped that the Best Company will make the necessary alteration in the above cases.

Side by side with the change of fares in the A Route, the Best Company should now alter the fares on the other routes also, of their system, in uniformity with those of the A Route.

INJUSTICE AFTER "CAREFUL CONSIDERATION"

From "Dafadar."

The Acting Dean has thought fit to pay no heed to the humble appeal of the poor victimised student and has further adopted a cowardly procedure turning a deaf ear to the various Press remarks, regarding the maladministration going on in his own "National Institution."

By the way, let me bring to the kind notice of the public that this is not the only instance, but innumerable instances, irrefutable with genuine facts and figures, have been occurring under this very autocratic management behind the curtain, which, if exposed, will reveal startling scenes.

When even your bold journal assured the public that the poor student was not responsible in any way for the publicity regarding the "K.E.M. Hospital Mystery," I do not, in the least, understand why the Acting Dean has not acted wisely in taking back the student.

This leads us to suspect that the Acting Dean and his colleagues and bosses do not dare to refute any statement for the fear that another bombshell will be thrown at them, or because they accept the truth of the Press reports, but at the same time, they want to shield the Dean lest the prestige would be minimised. But if it be a fact, then this instance is a glaring example of miscarriage of justice. If such sort of things are allowed to proceed in an institution managed by the public, then the day is not far off when this proud institution will unnecessarily and unfortunately go to the dogs.

Further, if the other authorities under the false notion of safeguarding the prestige and position of the Acting Dean deem it fit not to interfere in his regime, it is high time for the public-spirited City Fathers to take up the matter seriously and not to keep it simply on record for consideration, when they fully realise that the career of a student who is on the threshold of finishing his course, is at stake.

The Acting Dean can safely harbour a coward who has disgracefully assaulted another student in his executive and at the same time dismiss an innocent student for a thing which he now finds it difficult to explain boldly before the public.

Let the Acting Dean be manly and come out boldly with a statement and show the charges against the poor victim. If he is not capable to do so much, it is high time that he should resign.

Let justice be fair and impartial.

Indian Test Team.

From "Juno."

The Old Lady of Bori Bunder has indulged in an unseemly attack this morning on the Bombay Presidency (Proper) Cricket Association for their crime of resolving that the Selection Committee for India's Test Teams should be composed of Indians alone.

The Old Lady characterises the suggestion as "remarkable more for its futility than for its childishness". Evidently this Anglo-Indian organ claims the monopoly of wisdom, for otherwise it should have treated with respect the resolution of an Association which has on its Managing Committee elected representatives of the five leading Gymkhanas of Bombay and a representative from Poona District.

Mr. M. C. Chagla recently pointed out in your columns the inherent justice of the claim that Indians should select their own Test Teams. Nobody has ever heard of a French, German or Italian team competing for international sports being selected by an Englishman or 'vice versa'. Why then should the case of India be different? Evidently our self-appointed trustees, accustomed to look after our interests, do not relish the prospect of their being ignored; but that cannot make the decision of the Association 'childish', and it is pertinent to state openly that the vast majority of the public interested

SURPRISE IN ASSEMBLY LOBBY

Bajpai Lays Select Committee's Unanimous Report On Medical Council Bill, Revealing Official Yielding

(From Our Correspondent.)

SIMLA Sept. 1.

The first time that the Assembly finished the entire agenda happened, to-day, when numerous official bills were disposed of, while proceedings re-elected entirely a success for Government motions. There is one respect in which the non-official side of the House felt happy. Mr. Bajpai presented the Select Committee's report on the Indian Medical Council Bill.

The report is unanimous, and this caused a surprise in the lobby, in view of the fact that the Committee had on it, advocates of radical charges in Bill.

YIELDITG TO OPPOSITION.

It appears that Government found opposition strong, and yielded in the Select Committee, and revised the Bill with a view to make it approximate to the wishes of its critics, so that a sound national Medical Council would be built up. Government representatives of the Select Committee may be said to have taken their defeat in a sporting spirit but as matters never went to vote it really amounted to their acquiescence to the proposals which emanated from the non-official side. Now when the Bill comes up before the House next week for the third reading it should have a favourable reception and a comparatively easy passage.

LIVELY PROCEEDINGS.

Proceedings of the House were lively throughout. The question hour found Mr. Bajpai, who is very clever and skilful in replying to supplementaries, a bit perplexed, when he was confronted with an enquiry by Mr Joshi as to why Government agreed to provide Muslim medical officers and attendants on pilgrim ships. He explained that the Standing Committee had recommended such a course.

AERIAL BOMBING.

There was a regular shower of questions over aerial bombing but of which Mr. Glancy, Political Secretary and Mr. Tottenham, the Army Secretary, came well, but the non-official side put the most pertinent questions which must have strained official members considerably to defend their action, for Mr. Glancy it was the first ordeal and the manner in which he answered the questions, and later made a neat speech on the Murshidabad Bill showed that he has parliamentary talents. His maiden performance was loudly cheered.

BUSINESS TRANSACTED

As for business transacted the House passed the Bill authorising the State Railways to run motor services, and passed the Bill enabling land to be acquired for housing of industrial labour and gave Government powers regarding broadcasting.

Next week is going to be still more interesting as the Cotton Protection Bill is due for passage and the Indian States Protection Bill will be referred to the Select Committee, while the Reserve Bank Bill and the Tea Restriction Bill will be introduced.

Income Tax Bill and the Murshidabad Bill were referred to the Select Committee, and the Bill remodelling the Petroleum Act was sent round for circulation.

NO COMMUNALISM IN T. U. MOVEMENT

Govt. Anxious To Encourage Healthy Trade Unionism, Says Sir F. Noyce

SIMLA Sept. 1.

The Legislative Assembly met to-day to consider official bills. Mr. B J. Glancy, Political Secretary, was sworn in as member replacing Foreign Secretary.

Sir Frank Noyce replying to Mr. Maswood Ahmed said: the Government of India are anxious to encourage healthy trade unionism. They would regret therefore, to see the development of communalism within the trade union movement. It is no part of their policy to attempt to regulate the manner, in which membership of trade unions of private workmen be composed but the Government of Indai do not propose to accord recognition to any trade union of their employees which may be formed on communal basis. (applause.)

Mr. Maswood Ahmed: Has Government issued a circular that a trade union formed on communal basis should not be recognised?

Sir Frank Noyce: Government are not concerned in the matter.

Mr. Gayaprasad Singh: Will not the object of trade union movement be frustrated, if they were run on communal lines?

The President: That is asking for expression of an opinion.—

Mr. Glancy, Political Secretary, moved consideration of the Bill, providing for the appointment of a manager on behalf of the Secretary of State of the properties of the Nawab of Murshidabad. He said that the Act of 1891 empowered the Secretary of State to enter upon the properties of the Nawab of Murshidabad, that the necessity had arisen owing to the fact that the Nawab had contracted very heavy debts, and had allowed the property to fall into the most deplorable statd: but the Act of 1891 did not provide for a satisfactory machinery for the proper control of the State. This Bill aimed at remedying that deficiency.

TOTAL CLAIMS OF 19 LAKHS

The total claims against the Nawab amounted to 19 lakhs. The Bengal Government assumed that as soon as normal conditions were restored, it should be possible to pay three lakhs annually towards the liquidation of liabilities. Decree holders should under no apprehension, as the Bill providdd for appeal against the Manager to the Board of Revenue. If, on the other hand, the Bill was not passed creditors could attach only movable property personally acquirdd by the present Nawab, and it was doubtful whether the vaue of that would be more than 1-20th of the liability.

The Nawab himself belongdd to an ancient and highly respected family, and was greatly respected by the Muslims of Bengal and other communities as well. (Applause). It will be most deplorable if he were insulted or put into prison.

URGENT MATTER

The Political Secretary therefore, impressed on the House that the matter was one of very considerable urgency. He would, however, agree to a motion for Select Committee, provided it would be possible to report and pass the Bill in this session.

Mr. Neogy moved reference to Select Committee which the House accepted.

The House adjourned till Monday.—A. P.

COTTON EXPORTS TO JAPAN

E. I. C. A. Elucidates Sir J. Bhore's Point

BOMBAY, Sept. 1.

The East India Cotton Association have issued the following statement to the Associated Press:

"With reference to the resolution moved by Seth Haji Abdulla Haroon, M.L.A., in the Legislative Assembly, proposing either the raising of the duty on all foreign cotton imports so as to assist the cotton grower, or prohibit imports of foreign cotton altogether, in view of the Japanese boycott, Sir Joseph Bhore, the Commerce Member of the Government of India is reported to have made a statement in the Assembly on the 31st August, 1933 to the effect that the Japanese boycott of Indian cotton had had no effect, and that cotton exports to Japan had increased in spite of it.

The East India Cotton Association consider that this statement requires an explanation. The fact of the matter is that the large volume of Indian cotton shipped to Japan after the declaration of the boycott of Indian cotton by the Japan Cotton Spinners' Association, Osaka, consisted mainly of the commitments in cotton made before the declaration of boycott of Indian cotton.

To give a concrete instance in substantiation of this fact, it may be mentioned that the Japan Cotton Spinners' Association, which is in charge of allotting freight for cotton shipments to Japan, does not allow freight for shipment to Japan since the declaration of boycott except in respect of the commitments made before the boycott of Indian cotton was declared."—A. PYORRHOEA and How it Robs the Health of Thousands

Pyorrhoea is one of the commonest and apparently one of the most difficult conditions to handle to which we are subject. It is really a suppurative or pus inflammation of the root membrane of the tooth in relation to the connective tissue of the gum beneath the mucous membrane covering the gum. The symptoms such as tender and Swollen gums and Bleeding from gums are usually present in Pyorrhoea but in addition to these, when this disease has existed for a considerable length of time, there is so much loss of substance of the gum that it recedes from the tooth and the tooth becomes loose. Moreover, Pus, the septic mass, goes into stomach and intestines and it poisons the whole system and constitutional diseases follow. If you have this disease, start the B.R.B. XLOL GUM PAINT and B.R. B. XLOL ANTISEPTIC DENTAL POWDER TREATMENT as it is the surest method to cure and to prevent Pyorrhoea and check its progress. Its continued use arrests the most stubborn cases. Don't leave this treatment until every disease is cured completely. A simple Home Treatment. Obtainable only from BELI RAM & BROS., 304, Princess Street, BOMBAY 2.

U. SHANKAR BRINGS DOWN THE HOUSE

Crowded Audience Greets Opening Performance At Empire Theatre

A crowded house witnessed the opening performance of Uday Shankar and his company at the Empire Theatre last night.

It is difficult to analyse the overpowering impression that one gets from a show that sought to make real and living what belongs to the distant past, though surviving in outward form, devoid of the spirit that animated it. But the fascination, if subtle and indefinable, was nonetheless unmistakable.

ESSENTIALLY HINDU.

So much passes under the name of Indian dancing that it is necessary to differentiate the art of Shankar from what we are accustomed to Shankar is Hindu first and Hindu last. His themes and his presentation of them are inspired by Hindu religion and mythology. And he has succeeded in infusing the same spirit in the other artistes of his company.

RHYTHMIC MOVEMENTS.

A peculiarity of Shankar's technique is the rhythmic undulating movement of the whole body from head to foot and the serpentine movements of his arms—a marvel of flexibility and muscular control. The same technique was displayed, though to a lesser degree, by his partner Simkie, a French girl (and the only European member of the company), who but for her skin, could easily be mistaken for an Indian girl.

TANDAVA NRITTYA.

The 'piece de resistence' of the programme was the closing item —the "Tandava Nrittya" which forms part of the big ballet of the Shiva dance. From the meditative mood of the opening scene, Shankar, impersonating Shiva, passes into a terrific and violent rage as he braces himself up to a deadly encounter with the elephant-demon, Gajasur, who is molesting Parvati.

But, perhaps, Shankar was at his best in the Indra dance. He glided smoothly through varied patterns of rhythmic movements and it was a wonder how perfectly he kept his balance. In the "Astra Puja" worship of arms, a traditional dance of Northern India), Shankar and Simkie portrayed the fearless courage of the warrior who carries his life on the edge of his sword.

"RADHA KRISHNA" DANCE.

The "Radha Krishna" is invariably the first or last recourse of most Indian dancers. But the way it was presented by Shankar and Simkie had a distinction all its own. Though a dance of flirtation and love, it was surprisingly free from the amorous sentiment and movements which are usually associated with it.

Shankar received enthusiastic encores for several of his numbers but he responded only with the typical Hindu bow, and did not offer a repetition, probably due to the practice to which he was accustomed in Western countries.

It is difficult in a brief notice like this, to do justice to other players. The marvellous music was a treat in itself, well worth the highest-priced ticket.

AIR BOMBING ON FRONTIER

Army Secretary Replies To Question By Mr. Maswood Ahmed

20 HOUSES DESTROYED

Operations at Kotkai Cost Rs. 15,000 and Yield No Results.

SIMLA, Septr. 1.

In the Legislative Assembly today, replying to a short-notice question by Mr. Maswood Ahmed regarding the air-bombing on the tribal area of the North-West Frontier recently, Mr. Tottenham, Army Secretary said: "As explained by His Excellency the Viceroy in his address to the Legislature on August 30, the Government of India received information that certain agitators, whose activities were likely to disturb the peace of the Frontier and to be a source of embarrassment to our neighbour's had come to Bajaur, and that the most important of them was being harboured in the village of Kotkai—a small walled village containing about 130 inhabitants and situated at a distance of about 30 miles from the nearest road over very mountainous country, and another 45 miles from the railhead at Dargai.

A notice was conveyed by a messenger to the Khan of Kotkai on July 23 to the effect that unless this agitator was surrendered before August 1, Government would take such action as they might think necessary. The Khan adopted a defiant attitude and refused to surrender the man. Warnings were then dropped on and in the vicinity of the village by aeroplane on July 30 to the effect that the village was liable to be bombed on August 1 and succeeding days.

The first bombardment was carried out on August 1 by 12 machines of the Royal Air Force, which dropped 42 bombs. No bombing took place on August 2. On August 3 and again on August 4 further bombing took place by six machines, which dropped 24 bombs on each occasion. The total number of bombs dropped was 90. So far as can be ascertained about 20 houses were destroyed or damaged and one man was slightly injured.

The village presented a deserted appearance when bombing took place and there is every reason to believe that all the women and children had been removed to a place of safety and none of them was hurt. The total cost of these operations is under Rs. 15,000. No further bombing has taken place either of Kotkai or of any other village."—A.P.

AERIAL BOMBING

Mr. Maswood Ahmed put a short-notice question relating to aerial bombing.

Mr. Maswood Ahmed: What is your source of information that none was killed and only one person was injured.

Mr. Tottenham: Certain people from the village gave information to the Political authorities.

Mr. Shafi Daudi: Has not bombing been abolished by the United Kingdom?

Mr. Tottenham: United Kingdom offered at the Disarmament Conference to abolish all military aviation but when this suggestion was not approved an alternative was put forward by United Kingdom that aerial bombing be abolished subject to aerial policing of the outlying posts of the Empire. Discussion on the subject is being resumed by the Disarmament Conference.

Mr. Joshi: asbed whether the failure of the Conference was due to Great Britain's attitude?

"GROSS MISREPRESENTATION."

Mr. Tottenham: That is a gross misrepresentation. Whatever success the Conference has achieved is due more to the efforts of the British Government than any other in the world. (Applause).

Mr. Joshi: Then why are they insisting on reserving this power of police aerial bombing?

President:—We cannot discuss here the attitude of the British Government at the Disarmament Conference.

Mr. Joshi:—Then what was the attitude of the Indian Government?

Mr. Tottenham: The Indian Delegation followed the lead of the British Government. (Laughter).

Mr. S. C. Mitra: Isn't an immemorial custom for tribal people to give asylum?

RESPONSIBILITY FOR PEACE

Mr. Glancy: This custom prevails all over the world but sometimes it has to be subordinated to the interest of the maintenance of peace. The Government is responsible for peace in tribal area.

Moulvi Daudi: Did the agitators commit any overt act?

Mr. Glancy: No, but there was the danger of the country being inflamed.

Moulvi Daudi: Were not all countries to stop aerial bombing during the progress of the Disarmament Conference.

HUMANE METHOD!

Mr. Tottenham: It would be most unreasonable to expect any country to deprive itself of the weapon in anticipation of the conclusions of the Conference, especially as the weapon has proved very efficient, economical and humane method of preserving peace on the Frontier. (Applause).

Moulvi Daudi: Was there any urgency for bombing in July?

Mr. Tottenham: The only other alternative was to send an armed force which would cost a great deal more both in casualties and cost of operations and ultimately the result would have been the same on villages as by aerial operation.

ACTING IN IMAGINARY FEAR?

Maulvi Daudi: Do the Government act in imaginary fear of trouble?

Mr. Tottenham: Government do not resort to action in imaginary fears.

Bhai Parmanand: Are the proceedings of the League of Nations applicable to India only in case of air bombing? (A voice: Also minorities).

Sir Harry Haig: Agreements reached by the League are binding on countries which subscribe to them.

Mr. Maswood Ahmed: Was the danger of a disturbance of the peace in India or Afghanistan?

President:—No question can be asked regarding a foreign territory.

Mr. Maswood Ahmed: Was the danger of disturbance of peace in India?

Mr. Tottenham: There was a danger of a breach of the peace in India.

The President stopped further questions and the House proceeded to discuss normal business.—A.P.

LATHI CHARGE ON STRIKERS

Rowdy Element Creates Mischief At Lal Baug Meeting

MANCHESTER MILL DEADLOCK

Adhikari and Five Others Charged with disorderly Behaviour in Public Place

The workers of the Manchester Mill have gone on strike against the system of 3 frames (spinning) and 6 looms, which the Mill-owners are trying to introduce.

A meeting of the strikers was held in an open space near the Mill in which the strikers elected their Strike Committee to lead the strike. Workers from the Young Workers League and the Kalbavta G. K. U. were present to assist the Strike Committee.

"CONTINUE STRIKE."

Mr. Adhikari exhorted the strikers to conduct the strike with the help of their own Strike Committee. He pointed out that the Manchester Mill was the laboratory of the Sassoons where they first tried all new systems of rationalisation and sweating. It was the duty of the workers in that mill to give the lead to the rest of the workers by refusing to work the system of 6 looms and 3 frames. He exhorted them to continue the strike in an orderly manner and make perfect arrangements about picketing, etc.

The meeting then formed itself into a procession and proceeded along Kalachowki, Chinchpokli and Arthur Road, and terminated at Lal Baugh, where another meeting was held.

LATHI CHARGE & ARRESTS.

A rowdy elements, who had come with the express intention of breaking the meeting, began to make noise. The strikers, who resented this interference, asked these men to go out of the meeting. Confusion then prevailed resulting in lathi charge by Police.

After the dispersal of the meeting, the Police arrested Messrs. Adhikari, Mohe, Jayram and three others. They were taken to the police station (Kalachowki) and subsequently released on bail of Rs. 5 each.

The charge against Adhikari and others is disorderly behaviour in a public place under Section 122 of the Bombay City Police Act.

India's Problem, Primarily Economic

Our Object In Striving For Self-Govt. is To Reduce Cost Of Administration & Burden On Peasants, Says Jawaharlal

LUCKNOW, Sept. 1.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru in a press interview said:

"It is a relief to be able to talk, for as you imagine there is not much opportunity for conversation in gaol. My refuge had been in books, of which I was allowed six at a time and I have done much solid reading in politics, Economics and my own subject, science. My aim and interest has been to study world problems and recent developments in Germany, America and elsewhere and to estimate their probable effect upon India. For though India's case is a case apart, yet she is of the world and her future must be affected by what is happening elsewhere."

Applying a parallel to India, the Pandit said that her true problem was primarily economic and not political. We agitators, he said, are accused of upsetting the State. But the truth is that no agitator has such superhuman powers as to be able to do that. An agitator, though he may temporarily direct events, merely gives expression to the existing grievances.

AGRARIAN PROBLEM

In India those grievances are agrarian. The zemindari system has broken down and it is as much an anachronism as autocracy in Indian States. The whole of the White Paper scheme is obviously unworkable and unprofitable. Our object in striving for self-Government for India is to reduce the cost of administration and consequently the burden on peasants. And now so far from reduction, we have Sir Malcolm Hailey estimating an increased cost of provincial autonomy in crores of rupees. For my part I am glad that the scheme is wholly worthless. Had it been partly good and partly bad, it would have been more difficult to oppose it".—A. P.

ALL FOR MORAL EFFECT

proved their mettle among the savages, but we like to see an equal fight whenever one is staged. The Pathan is armed only with his rifle, which we have heard he values more than his wife!

We need not probe into the domestic affairs of the Pathan; we had better leave the Pathan and his wife alone to themselves. If the Pathan is armed only wth a rifle an honourable adversary should go out armed with a rifle. Or else, as chivalry yet lives, the man that uses superior weapons and crows over his victim is a blue-faced coward!

MORAL EFFECT.

The weightiest argument in favour of the bomb is that the bomb produces a tremendous explosion and a "moral effect" at the same time. This "moral" effect is just the same as that produced in the Punjab when a brave British General opened fire on an unarmed crowd, including women and children. And he did it expressly for the purpose of producing a "moral" effect. Some say that the ordinance against Boycott was the result of a "moral effect" in Lancashire!

But I have no business with "morals" now. My eyes are fixed on pious Britannia among the hills, the messenger of Peace and Civilisation.

As to the decision of the Association being 'futile', unless Bori Bunder claims to be in the confidence of that august body the Cricket Board of Control—which seems to be more representative of Rajas and Maharajas than of Indian Cricket—it is presumptuous to assume that they will treat lightly the resolution of an organisation which is fully representative of Cricket in Bombay, which is indisputably the home of Cricket in India.

Limited Business In Yarn

Dealers Prefer To Wait: Absence Of Confidence

Bombay, August 30.

The Yarn Market has remained rather dull and featureless with a somewhat steady undertone in sympathy with improvement in the cotton prices. Turnover, however, is yet very limited probably due to the fact that the Trade have yet no confidence in the scheme of artificially raising prices of cotton and other commodities that has been launched by the American President since a few months in America and about which there has been a divided opinion amongst the leading economists over the world. It is indeed a very huge experiment in the Economic History of the World, and it remains to be seen how far such an experiment meets with success, firstly in America and secondly, how far such an artificial rise in commodity prices affects the prices of commodities in other countries of the world. At the present moment, however, the situation looks extremely uncertain and more and more complicated to such an extent that the experienced dealers prefer to wait and watch developments and are determined not to commit themselves to any large extent. The most important questions of demand and supply have been temporarily set aside and neglected for the time being, atleast, in America. Fluctuations in Commodity prices are unprecedented in the History of the World and this naturally upsets all trade and commerce. The yarn trade is also seriously affected and owing to absence of confidence in the present level of prices buying from all important consuming districts is comparatively much smaller than in the past. In the midst of such a limited offtake during the last several months, dealers find it very difficult to dispose of their holdings on a large scale and consequently do not feel inclined to make purchases in bulk. Naturally, therefore, stocks are increasing not with the dealers or with the consumers, but mostly with the Mills who find themselves in increasing difficulties every day on account of very limited sales of their production, and as a result the production has got to be curtailed by most of our Mills which, in turn, increases their costs and they have to make heavy losses owing to the [illegible]y and incapacity of the con[illegible]s to pay any reasonable prices for their yarns The position is, therefore, growing more and more unsatisfactory every day and the demand from consuming districts has not been showing any definite improvement. Future tendency of the market, therefore, remains very uncertain at the moment.

ENGLISH YARNS.

There is nothing special to report and business continues very unsatisfactory in this class of yarns.

JAPANESE YARNS.

Turnover has continued to remain moderate during the week and prices have remained more or less steady. Fresh forward business has been very small on account of comparatively higher prices quoted by the Import Houses, probably in sympathy with recent improvement in cotton. Sampin have improved further, but the Exchange has shown an easier tendency.

ART SILK YARNS.

There has been no change in the Syndicate prices except for two-fold yarns, where the rate has been increased by one anna per lb. during the week. Reports from consuming districts are not as satisfactory as before and it looks as if the enthusiasm shown by the dealers and consumers in upcountry markets during the last few weeks has been gradually subsiding. Arrivals from Japan are not yet heavy and the Italian Exchange has been getting more and more unfavourable for imports and these and other factors help the prices to remain steady. Offtake, however, is getting reduced owing to the present level of prices which is considered by the consuming districts to be high. The undertone remains steady at present.

INDIAN YARN.

In the Local Market prices have remained fairly steady during the week and no improvement has been recorded in the prices of yarns in spite of the recent improvement in cotton. Some of the Mills are not inclined to sell their stocks at a heavy sacrifice without which no sales of yarns in bulk seem to be possible at present. Others, however, continue to keep their stuff in the market even at a loss. The arrival of the Japanese and British Delegation is awaited with interest, and hopes are entertained in some quarters regarding the probable outcome.

NO NEED FOR CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY

Catholic's Primary Need Is Wide Expansion Of Primary, Secondary And Technical Instruction

"The Mangalorean" writes:

The Catholic Educational Review has published some interesting articles by Catholic educationists o nthe question of setting up a Catholic University in India. The problem bristles with difficulties and almost all the contributors to the magazine recognise them. They all admit that however laudable the idea might appear at first sight there is no likelihood of obtaining the necessary funds. Even if the funds were forthcoming there are many other worthy causes to which these could be devoted. Professor P. J. Thomas of Madras points out that poverty is the urgent problem of India and poverty cannot be remedied by the spread of University education. "Our villages need more primary schools, and our towns call for technical schools to train mechanics and salesmen. The Church could do more to the country by filling this need on however small a scale than by establishing new Universities and colleges".

In expressing these sentiments Professor Thomas is not alone. There have been many others before him who said the same thing. 'The Mangalorean' has more than once expressed the view that there is no use now hastening the progress of higher education. The university degrees have failed to provide an economic return. The cheapness of university education in this country is probably responsible for the rush we see at the colleges and universities. At Oxford and Cambridge, a student has got to spend over £350 a year while an Indian student in Bombay or Madras does not require more than £75 a year. In a poor country like India the cost must no doubt be reasonably low, but it should be not so low as to develop higher education at the expense of primary or secondary education.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

The need of the moment is a wide expansion of primary, secondary and technical instruction. But the expansion of technical education implies a demand for it; does such a demand exist? There cannot be a wide field for the technical expert without any simultaneous growth of large scale industry, which, in turn, postulates a radical change in the economic policy of the country. Of late India has been pursuing a policy of discriminating protection which has no doubt helped a few nascent industries. Nevertheless there is no sign yet of a genuine industrial policy pursued by the Government of India. If the Indian Government of the future perpetuates the foreign economic domination, if India is to continue to be the 'milch cow', we cannot anticipate a true industrial expansion. If substantial progress cannot be attained in the near future any addition of trained organisers, experts or skilled workers will add to the army of unemployed who, haunted by the ghost of starvation, prowl about in cities looking out for openings.

There is of course, plenty of room for skilled craftsmen. Many of our youngmen could be trained in trades and handicrafts to enable them to practise their trades or carry on minor or cottage industries. The agricultural population is not fully occupied for five or six months in the year, and the development of cottage industries will help them to supplement their income. It is in the direction of the development of middle or lower industrial schools that we must strive. Instead of preparing the youngman to drive the quill, he can be very well taught how to be a good mason, bricklayer, woodworker, plumber, carriage builder, blacksmith, furniture maker, printer, weaver or tailor. What efforts do the Catholic institutions make in this direction? Hardly any. The percentage of technical institutions is very low indeed!

MONEY.

Money was very easy this week and call funds were unlendable. the rate being about 1/2 to 1 percent. Southern & Foreign Selling In New York

PRE-HOLIDAY DULLNESS

Absence Of Important Buying

The New York Cotton futures market was easier on Thursday in the absence of any important buying and also by Southern selling and foreign selling. The market is under the effect of approaching holidays and there was less disposition to operate. It is understood that the Federal Reserve Bank will reduce the discount rate After Labour Holidays the market will be guided by the next Bureau Report and in view of favourable weather there seems to be no reason for any material change in the production.

POLITICAL DEVELOPMENTS.

The market is mainly guided by political and economic developments resulting from the inflationary policy adopted by Washington administration. There is no official statement regarding the progress of the National Recovery Act and operations of several codes. The Government is keenly watching developments and we believe that further inflationary measures are inevitable.

PUZZLING SITUATION.

The cotton situation is a puzzling one. When President Roosevelt aimed to reduce the prospective supply by reducing the area under cotton cultivation, it seemed that the crop will be a small one. Later on severe drought in Texas lead the cotton trade to believe that the total crop will be 80 to 90 lacs of bales and cotton will sell at 14 cents.

BIG SUPPLY.

This situation is now absolutely changed. We have a prospective crop of 13 million bales of American Cotton and outside cotton crops are expected to be about one million bales more than last year. Thus the abandonment of acreage under cotton cultivation on the lines of Government ideas have failed to improve the statistical situation of cotton.

EFFECT OF TAX.

The U. S. Government has now imposed processing Tax of 4.2 cents on production of cotton cloth and in the absence of sustained demand mills in America are reducing their output.

GREATEST EXPERIMENT.

The success of the American Government to raise commodity prices entirely depends on the purchasing power in the States. It is the greatest experiment that the world has ever seen. The cotton trade is watching Washington developments rather than crop and other factors. The situation is critical without inflation.

NEW YORK MARKET.

The New York Cotton futures market opened at a decline of 11 points for October delivery which was the lowest level of the day. There was some speculative buying which improved prices by 8 to 9 points from the opening level, but the improvement was lost in the afternoon. The market closed at a decline of 11 to 9 points. Spot Cotton prices declined 10 points to 9.45c.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

The New Orleans Cotton futures market was quiet and closed at a decline of 8 to 9 points. Spot Cotton prices declined 8 points at 9.24c.

LIVERPOOL STEADY.

The Liverpool Cotton futures market opened unchanged to a decline of one point. The market was quiet and featureless. There was scattered trade calling and short covering. The market closed at a rise of 2 points.

OUTSIDE GROWTHS.

East Indian Cotton futures closed unchanged with January 4.76. Egyptian Cotton futures moved within a narrow range and closed at a rise of one to two points.

ALEXANDRIA COTTON.

The Alexandria Cotton futures market was quiet and closed at a decline of 7 to 11 points.

N. Y. October lowest 9.37—11 (opening).

N. Y. December highest 9.66 (10-53 a.m.); Lowest 9.58 (2-31 p.m.)

Messrs. Chunilal Mehta & Co. have received to-day the following cable information from their Foreign Friends:—

New York:—Quiet holding market. Although southern spot sales active, credited far Eastern buying.

New York:—Featureless preholiday market. Little hedging. Price fixing. Cotton goods market—Yarn Market—quiet.

Messrs. Sarupchand Prithiraj have received the following cables:—

New York:—Market at present seems well liquidated before the holidays: hedging is only moderately absorbed but buying is restricted by larger crop estimates, good weather and uncertainty (re.) general business conditions.

New York:—Think market will go lower.

New York:—Trading narrow in advance of holidays: think buyers will do wrong by waiting.

AMERICAN COTTON CROP

Weekly Weather Report

The Official Weather Report, states that there was storm damage to cotton in the extreme North-Eastern portion of the Belt. Conditions in the East Gulf area have been too dry for proper development of crop; while moisture in the North-Western belt favoured weevil activity.

Following further decline of 9 points in New York futures, the Local Market opened to-day at Rs. 204 for Broach A/M. delivery and declined to Rs. 202/8 on general scattered liquidation. There was not much selling pressure but owing to absence of any buying, the market ruled quiet. At the decline there was covering which rallied prices, but there was again renewed, tired long liquidation and prices declined further. The undertone of the market was weak.

Liverpool Market opened quiet at a decline of 4 points but the Local Market ruled very steady on short covering. The decline is believed to be too rapid. The market closed at 5-30 p.m. as under:—

Andhra Shares Look Up

MILL SHARES BARELY STEADY

Bombay, Sept. 1.

The Share Bazaar opened quiet but steady. There was some long liquidation during the middle part of the session but the market again improved on fairly good buying. The closing tone of Mill shares was barely steady. The future of mill shares entirely depends upon the trend of cotton prices at present. Andhra shares ruled steady to-day with improved buying. Tram shares fared well on a continued enquiry. Cement shares were also steady. The volume of business done today was moderate. Tata Steel shares were steady with a fair enquiry.

Bombay Dyeings opened at 778/2 declined to 771/4 and closed at 776/4. Fazuls eased to 275 and closed at 281/4. Pearls came down to 161/4 and closed at 167/8. New Greats finished at 155. Swadeshis were steady at 248/12 and Nagpores finished at 315/4. Andhras declined to 1460 and closed at 1472/8. Tata Powers started at 1002/8 jumped to 1025 on an aggressive buying and closed at 1022/8. Indian Cements rose to 308/12 and Kaetni deferreds changed hands at 1030. Bombay Burmas went down to 376/4 and closed at 379/6. Bombay Steamers were in good request and appreciated to 291/4. Tata Steel ordys closed at 53/14 and deferreds ruled steady around 192/8.

TROUBLE IN BULLION MARKET

Brokers Refuse To Do Any Forward Business

New System Of Badges To Check Outsiders

General business in the local bullion market has come to a standstill to-day.

Brokers refuse to work and do any forward business. The Board of Directors have resolved that nobody should be allowed in the trading hall without the official badge .The badges are sold to members, brokers and staff ,at a price of Rs. 2 each.

NEW SYSTEM OPPOSED

This new system of badges is introduced with a view to check outsiders from entering the trading ring.

It is understood that the Board is now considering the situation and early resumption of trading is expected.

Nominally ready silver is quoted at Rs. 55-12, Bhadarva Rs. 55-13 and Aso Rs. 56-1. Ready gold Rs. 32-1-9, Bhadarva Rs. 32-2 and Aso Rs. 32-2-3.

NO SETTLEMENT YET LATER.

No settlement has yet been arrived at in the crisis created by the order to use badges. The market re-opened at 2-30 p.m. Silver Bhadarva is quoted at Rs. 55 13 and Bhadarva Gold at Rs. 32/3.

Kurla Municipality Not A Happy Family

Four Councillors Write To Collector Supporting His Charges Of Administrative Inefficiency And Jobbery

(From Our Correspondent.)

KURLA, Sept. 1.

That the Kurla Municipality is sharply divided on the burning question as how to best meet the charges levelled by the Collector, its fate hanging in the balance in view of the threatened supersession, is revealed by a separate explanatory letter addressed by the Independent Party consisting of four councillors, to the Collector of the Bombay Suburban District.

These members had refrained from voting on Mr. Fitwala's proposition adopted by the general board approving the President's draft reply.

CONTENTS OF LETTER.

With reference to the recovery of Rs. 3.000 from Mr. N. R. Phadke, the letter says that had the municipality taken delivery of the fire engine, lying in the docks at that time, there would have been no cause to lose the money paid in advance and spend further to recover it. The president has assured the Board that Rs. 60,000 have been transferred to fixed deposit account in the Imperial Bank of India. With regard to the arrears of conveyance tax, the Standing Committee was approached to write off the amount of Rs. 10,495-14-0 on May 15 last, but before doing so, the chief officer was requested to report and fix responsibility for such heavy loss. It will be thus seen that the Municipal staff itself is incompetent to carry out its duties and until reports are forthcoming, the committee can do very little.

WHITE ELEPHANT.

The municipality had to sustain serious loss, because the officers in charge of recovering license fees in advance did not do so at the time of renewing the licenses. With regard to construction of works, it is stated that no regular agreements from the contractors are executed, no completion certificates are available and no contract register is maintained. Regarding establishment, no rules and bye-laws are yet framed. The majority party relies on the old and inconsistent rules framed under the Act of 1901, of which no spare copies are available. The creatain of several posts for the efficient administration of the municipality have proved to be white elephants, as these posts were given to unqualified relatives of some of the members of the majority party. These hands defy the orders of their officers on the strength of the councillors related to them. Qualified persons are deliberately ignored as could be evidenced in the recent appointment of a matriculate in preference to a Graduate for the post of a teacher.

As regards the appointment of a medical officer of health, no communication from the Government had been placed on the table. The Sanitary Committee is taking necessary action as to why the members were not made aware of it, till the collector's memorandum was received. As the chairman of the committee, appointed to go through the subject of proposed shifting of the stables to one central locality, has not yet convened any meeting, members can do very little in this respect.

SHAIKH'S APPOINTMENT.

The letter proceeds that we concur with the opinion of the Collector that the appointment of Mr. Shaikh, who has no administrative experience, was made on party lines instead of from the point of view of efficient administration. The very fact that the majority party rejected the amendment of Mr. C. N. Kalyankar proposing Mr. Oka, who was a chief officer of the Sholapur Municipality for seven years drawing a salary of Rs. 750 per mensem, and who had the practical knowledge of drainage and water-works, shows that they (majority party) wanted weak and incapable chief officer to serve their own ends. Mr. Shaikh will never administer the municipal affairs independently and impartially. He might be appointed as an engineer.

With regard to the naming of streets, the letter says that the old names be continued and the new ones cancelled. It was found during the discussion on the subject that lives of non Muslims were endangered by the presence of fanatic Mahomedans in the council hall. Quotation for electrification of the council hall and the office was accepted without the sanction of the Standing Committee. Inspite of best qualified applicants, the municipality appointed Mr. Akbaryar Khan as engineer. The inquiry committee's report in connection with the Muslim Burial ground, the affairs of the Takia market, construction of motor garages, pipe road, and drainage, his knowledge in submitting estimates and harrassment to the public in passing the plans of building go to show that his continuation in service as an engineer is not at all desirable in the best interests of the municipality and the public.

The signatories to the above letter are Messrs. T. B. Parab, C. N. Kalyankar, K. V. Bandal and D. A. Gomes.

ALL GOLD GOES TO FRANCE

PARIS, Aug. 31.

Gold from England is understood to form the lion's share of an increase of 134.000.000 francs in the Bank of France's gold reserve, as shown in the weekly balance sheet, issued to-day. The bank's gold registers record the figure of 82-1/4 milliard francs, which is over one milliard in excess of note issue

Along side the glut of gold, the features of the present position are:—Firstly, France's foreign trade is so shrunk as to minimise the adverse effect of the fall of the dollar and the pound, and secondly, the difficulty of balacing the budget (six milliards is the officially estimated deficit) is graver.

No inkling of Government's plan for finding money will be available before October and this, when disclosed, may well be critical for the franc. This, however, does not mean that the chances of France abandoning gold are greater.—Reuter.

CONVICTION FOR KEEPING BROTHEL SET ASIDE

Prostitute Succeeds In Appeal Against Fine For Admitting Colleagues In Her Residence

(From Our Correspondent.)

THANA, Sept. 1.

Can a woman, who is a prostitute herself, be convicted on a charge of keeping a brothel, simply because certain other prostitutes, living in separate tenements, visited her residence occasionally besides her own patrons?

This problem was decided in the negative by Mr. M. A. Bhave, Additional Sessions Judge of Thana, when one Mannabai (45) came in appeal against the decision of the Resident Magistrate of Kalyan, who had convicted her on a charge under section 67 of the Bombay District Police Act for committing a breach of the subdivisional magistrate's order, restraining her from allowing her house to be used as a brothel, and had sentenced her to pay a fine of Rs. 51, in default two months' simple imprisonment, and had further warned her that if she persisted in disobeying the order, she would be fined Rs. 25 per day for the period she allowed her house to be used as a brothel.

APPELLANT ACQUITTED.

The Judge, in acquitting the appellant, observed: "The appellant's pleader has pointed out that the mere fact that the people visit the house of the accused does not justify the inference that she procures girls for these people and allows the use of her house for the purpose of prostitution, as it is an admitted fact that the appellant herself is a prostitute, and whatever visitors go to her house go there as her own customers. He has further pointed out that very fact that the women, who formerly used to associate with the accused have since the order of the Sub-divisional Magistrate rented separate room for themselves to carry on prostitution on their own account goes to establish that they are not the persons, occupying as a single tenement, any part of the house of the accused for the purposes of being habitually used as a place for prostitution within the meaning of the definition of brothel.

It cannot be said in the absence of direct evidence that any particular person visited her house not as her own customer but for procuring girls through her for the gratification of their lust at her house."

DIRECT EVIDENCE SCARCE

"The public prosecutor urged," said the judge, "that it would be difficult to get direct evidence about matters, which are carried on naturally in a clandestine manner; but this argument does not appeal to me, because in many cases it is possible to lay a trap and send a "got-up" visitor with marked coins or notes and make direct evidence available. So long as the mere carrying on of prostitution personally is not made punishable as an offence, mere visits of women, who themselves carry on prostitution on their own account in their tenements, to another prostitute cannot in the absence of direct evidence inevitably lead to the inference that those occasional visits were utilised for habitually carrying on prostitution by such [illegible] of the house [illegible] within the meaning of the definition of brothel."

ILLEGALITY IN PROCEEDINGS.

Concluding, the judge remarked: "Further there is an illegality in the proceedings of the magistrate, which has been pointed out by the appellant's pleader, in connection with the sentence passed by the Magistrate. Section 67 of the District Police Act lays down that whoever fails to comply with an order made under section 41 of the Act shall be punished with fine which may extend to Rs. 25 for every day that such order continues to be disobeyed. It was, therefore, incumbent on the prosecution to show that a breach of order actually occurred between specified dates."

The judge set aside the lower court's order and directed that the fine be refunded.
